October Bridge Travel Is 43,854

Total Usage Is 470,512 as Against 426,685; Ferry Shows Gain

Travel over the three upper Hudson river bridges in October was 43,854 vehicles ahead of the 1948 total for that month, the New York State Bridge Authority office here reported today.

Total travel over the three bridges this year was 470,512 as against 426,685 in 1948 and the percentage increase was 10.28.

The Rip Van Winkle bridge which has shown a consistent traffic gain this year was again highest in percentage gain. The authority said 105,412 vehicles traveled over the bridge in October, an increase of 17,955 over 1948, an increase of 17.95 per cent.

Travel over the Mid-Hudson bridge was 246,071 as against 228,132 last year, a gain of 17,939 or 7.85 per cent, and the Bear Mountain bridge showed an October total of 119,029 as compared to 111,449 in 1948, an increase of 7,580 or 7.19 per cent.

Traffic on the bridges in October this year, however, was considerably less than the 525,238 in September, one of the top months of the year. The difference was 126,219.

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry carried 7,601 vehicles in October, a year ago against 6,337 in 1948, an increase of 1,264. It showed a loss in passenger travel, however, of 167, the total for this year being 2,890 and that of a year ago 3,057.

Revenue Agent Held

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—A federal Internal Revenue agent was held in $10,000 bail today after he was charged with trying to bribe a treasury lawyer to drop a tax investigation. The accused man, Abraham Sheinman, 39, of Flushing, Queens, who denied the charge, was ordered held for a trial on November 14. Assistant U. S. Attorney John C. Miller said Sheinman was arrested yesterday in a downtown Manhattan cafeteria after slipping $2,000 in bills to the lawyer.

Audience Rebuked

Godfrey Jumps on Young Folk Who Are Noisy During Address

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Arthur Godfrey rebuked a studio television audience last night for not paying attention to an audience member's talk.

He threatened to bar audiences from his variety show in the future if the audience for the show continued to be so noisy.

Godfrey began to explain how the science is helping people in each corner research in the laboratory.

The studio audience, heavy with coats and hats, became restless and noisy during the show.

Godfrey interrupted the show and told the audience to be quiet. He said it had been disturbing to a guest and declared he would not let audiences attend shows in the future.

Bridge Authority Head Outlines Proposed Site; Says Job Is Big One

James F. Loughran, president of the New York State Bridge Authority which has under its jurisdiction the present three vehicular bridges over the Hudson at Bear Mountain, Poughkeepsie and Catskill as well as the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry, told members of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce last evening that "nothing could be more beneficial to Kingston than the proposed bridge over the Hudson at Kingston."

He said that for more than 40 years he had been in public office and he had dedicated his life to public work. One of the things which he was now endeavoring to do is to bring about the completion of the bridge project here.

"No one here is more interested in this bridge project than I," he told the chamber members.

Loughran was the guest of the Chamber of Commerce and the principal speaker of the evening, reviewing what had been done to secure the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge and telling of its present status.

He had been expected that John Dugan, local superintendent for Lipsitt, Inc., contractors for the elimination of the Broadway crossing project, would be present to discuss the crossing plan but he was called out of town on business and other representatives of the firm were engaged in labor discussions at Newburgh in preparation for starting work on the elimination.

President Robert E. Teetsell presided at the meeting which was called for routine business and to act on proposed changes to the by-laws relative to the method of election of officers and to hear from Loughran the latest information on the proposed Hudson river bridge here.

Following introduction of the directors present and a financial report by Treasurer Victor Roth, Executive Secretary Al Kurland reported the inability of Dugan to be present and then Chairman of Transportation Committee Harry Gold introduced Loughran, who has served Ulster county many years as county superintendent of highways.

Assets Are in Millions Loughran reviewed the building of the present three bridges, one of which at Bear Mountain had been built by private capital and later taken over under provisions of its charter by the state and included in the bridges under the Bridge Authority. The three bridges, at Bear Mountain, Poughkeepsie and Catskill, are all operated as toll bridges and Loughran stated they represented a "very profitable" business. Assets of the New York State Bridge Authority are now "many millions," Loughran said.

The authority is making payments on accrued interest and also paying off bonded indebtedness. He indicated that the Rhinecliff ferry was not quite as good a business venture as the bridges and that recently a considerable sum had been spent on the ferry slip facilities to improve service.

Referring to the proposed bridge at Kingston, Loughran said the preliminary surveys had been completed and the state superintendent of public works has approved the project as a public bridge must be approved by the superintendent of public works and this approval has not yet been given.

Loughran said Dr. David B. Steinman, one of the leading bridge engineers, had made the

Dewey Addresses Local Clubs; Pleads For End of Deficits

More Than 300 Attend Luncheon at Governor Clinton; Government Like Slot Machine

Addressing more than 300 men at the union luncheon of three service clubs in the Governor Clinton Hotel, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, in town to break ground for the Broadway railroad crossing project, made a plea for Americans to get out of the deficit riddle.

Dewey's listeners were made up of members from the Kiwanis, Elks club, Rotary and Lions, who gave him a rousing welcome and applauded his speech.

"Our first job as Americans," he said, "regardless of our party is to set our minds that we are going to wipe out the deficit."

He said the government was like a slot machine. "You never get back 100 cents for your tax dollar," the governor emphasized.

In referring to the Brannan government price support plan for agriculture, Dewey remarked, "while it sounds wonderful," producers of farm products get high prices for their goods while the housewives pay less for them."

However, there is a gimmick, the governor explained. "And, the gimmick is that we have to pay

Uncle Sam Might Add Some Pork To Grocery Hoard

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—Uncle Sam may have to add some pork meat to his hoarded groceries.

Hog prices are slipping. They are now at the lowest level in more than three years. They are not far above the point at which the Agriculture Department must buy pork to help hold up the farmer's price for live hogs.

Uncle Sam's hoarded groceries include eggs, milk, potatoes, grains and many other items. But there's no meat in the larder. Many livestock traders think the last thing Uncle Sam wants to do is buy meat, taking it out of the consumer's market.

However, he won't be able to help himself, if prices continue to slide.

The top price for hogs here yesterday was $17 a hundred pounds. That was the lowest since Oct. 25, 1946. The old ceiling was $16.25.

Falling prices have spurred meat interests to action. A nationwide educational and advertising campaign promoting the use of pork will start next month.

The American Meat Institute, composed of meat packers, came up with some figures on retail prices. It said pork chops at retail in the basic Chicago market have dropped an average of 23 per cent from last summer while whole hams have slumped 15 per cent.

A highly complicated formula exists for determining at what price the Agriculture Department must step in and buy pork to support live hog prices. It is implied to take this action by congressional law.

U.S. Court Okays Bail For 11 Reds

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals ruled today that the 11 top American Communists convicted of conspiracy may be released in bail pending appeal of their case.

The court ruled that seven could be released in $20,000 bail each and four in $30,000 bail apiece.

The government originally asked that their total bail be set at $1,000,000.

An opinion handed down by Judges Learned Hand, Thomas V. Swan and Jerome N. Frank said that bail was being set, because the government "was not satisfied that the appeal herein raises a substantial question."

Bail of $30,000 was set for Eugene Dennis, John B. Williamson, Jacob Stachel, and Irving Potash. A $20,000 bail was fixed for Robert G. Thompson, Benjamin J. Davis, J. Edgar Winston, John Gates, Gilbert Green, Carl Winter and Gus Hall.

Previously the government asked $100,000 bail each for Dennis, Potash, Stachel, Williamson, Hall, Green and Thompson. It recommended $75,000 bail each for Davis, Winston, Gates and Winter.

A lawyer for the Communists, O. John Rogge, asked earlier that bail be set at no more than $10,000 for any defendant.

The 11 were convicted of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

U. S. Attorney Irwin H. Saypol, prosecutor of the case, who was indicted as a federal judge Tuesday, said of the decision:

"The action of the court speaks for itself. The interest of the government in the continuing phases of the case will be pressed vigorously by the same effective group of attorneys who worked with Judge McGohey in the preparation and successful prosecution of the case."

Ten of the 11 defendants are under five-year prison sentences. Thompson, the 11th, drew a three-year term. Each also was fined $10,000.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, who presided at the nine months trial, rejected all attempts by the Communists to have bail set.

All are now in the federal house of detention here.

Jail Escape Sought For Slaying Quiz

Portland, Me., Nov. 3 (AP)—A Stafford Springs, Conn., jail escapee is being sought for questioning about a Portland robbery-slaying.

County Attorney Daniel C. McDonald said the escapee occurred three days before Mitchell A. Berube, 50, was shot to death Oct. 19 in a gasoline station where he worked. Berube was robbed of about $109.

The county attorney said the man he seeks had been in Maine picking potatoes.

Search is still underway for the weapon that fired two .32 caliber bullets in Berube's body.

March of Progress (An Editorial)

The continuing courageous and progressive program of Mayor Newkirk's administration for the betterment of all the people of the community is further evidenced in the following three projects.

SUMMER STREET DUMP—Mayor Newkirk in 1947 made no promise with respect to the Summer street dump, but he has given the people of the affected area performance. Due to control measures, including the weekly scarifying of the dump, there have been less fires since Mayor Newkirk took office two years ago than before. More than that, this year under his administration, the sum of $10,000 was appropriated as the first step in the enlargement of the incinerator to take care of all combustible materials. There will be no fires at the Summer street dump if all combustibles are burned at the incinerator. Completion of the enlargement of the incinerator is part of the Newkirk program.

WATER PRESSURE—For many years the people of Clifton avenue have been suffering from the lack of water pressure. Added to this intolerable inconvenience was the ever present fire hazard. This year action was taken by the Water Board, which will end this very bad condition. At a meeting of the Water board held this year, a contract was awarded for the construction of a 500,000 gallon water tower and a standpipe on land purchased by the City on Florence street. The contract provides that the work will be completed by June 1950. Approximately 4,000 people in the area affected will be affected by this action.

FLOOD DAMAGE—Many feet below the surface of Washington avenue there is a large concrete tunnel, which was installed there many years ago when the Ashokan Reservoir was built. In the 1949 budget, an appropriation was made to make an engineering study of this tunnel in connection with sinking a shaft to meet it and divert storm water from the uptown section into it. This will relieve the area around Elizabeth street, where there has been severe flood damage in the past. The plans and specifications for this progressive step have been approved by the U. P. W. and now await the approval of the Common Council.

The official known as courageous is the one who faces problems and does something about it, rather than turn away from it. Mayor Newkirk throughout his entire first term in office has proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that he is courageous and therefore progressive. The record speaks for itself.

Mayor Says 12th Ward Housing Site Dead Issue; Cites Stand

Chamber Requests Representation He Declares Democrats Refused to Act on Matter; Referendum Impossible

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Republican candidate for re-election, today issued the following statement in reply to an address on Wednesday night by Francis J. O'Neill, his Democratic opponent:

My stand on housing is a matter of public record for the entire two years of my administration. I pledged in my campaign two years ago to fight for housing and I have kept that pledge. I was for it then, and I am for it now.

Early in my administration I sponsored a meeting at the municipal auditorium to discuss the housing problem. Subsequently, I appointed a public housing authority to investigate the local housing situation and to recommend a solution. They made a survey which revealed a critical housing shortage in Kingston. They then applied to the State Division of Housing for a low rental public housing project. The State Division of Housing examined numerous sites and selected the Millers Lane site as the most suitable location.

As the result of that action, a housing project was submitted to the Common Council.

It is a matter of public record that the six Democratic aldermen refused to vote either for or against this project when the matter was before the Common Council at various times. Because of their refusal to vote the housing project for Miller's Lane was defeated and thereupon the State Division of Housing withdrew its approval of that project.

By reason of those facts, there can be no question but that the Miller's Lane site cannot be utilized for public housing at any future time.

Why at This Late Date? The Democratic candidate for mayor, six days before election, and after being repeatedly challenged by me to take a stand on this vital issue, finally announced Wednesday night, that he is "for housing."

School Official Johnson Blamed for Esopus Tax Jump

At a meeting Wednesday in Ascension Parish Hall, West Park, attended by more than 200 taxpayers, School District Superintendent Ralph A. Johnson was blamed for the increase in tax rates of the Town of Esopus.

The charge was hurled at him by Attorney John E. Egan of Kingston. He said, "If there is any one person responsible for the plight you people find yourselves in, it is Ralph Johnson, your district superintendent."

Egan stressed that neither the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, Supervisor Henry Cameron, or the town board, the school board or any other local official had anything whatever to do with it.

Egan attended the meeting in place of Cluett Schantz, since the chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors had previously commitments and couldn't accept the invitation to be present.

Last night's meeting was called by the Esopus-West Park Citizens Committee, Wilson Lefevre, chairman, and John Quick, Jr., co-chairman, for the purpose of discussing the increased tax rates in the West Park and West Esopus School district due to the change in the state equalization rate from 44 per cent to 17 per cent for the Town of Esopus.

Child, 7, Is Found; Two Men Arrested

Mulhns, S. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—A seven-year-old blonde girl, taken off yesterday in a car by two strange men, showed up at an old farm home today, tired but unharmed.

Deputy Sheriff Burt Rogers said Jerome Alford, 30, and Hugh Smith, 22, both farmers, had been arrested. No charges have yet been preferred. They were locked in an undisclosed jail.

"I understand from the doctors that those fellows didn't bother her," the officer said. "They'd been drinking," he said of Alford and Smith.

Navy Divers Work Upon Wreckage of Bolivian Airplane

Three Victims Still Sought in River Mud Near Airport; Radio Is to Be Checked

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Navy divers dredging up the rubble of history's worst airplane crash from the bottom of the Potomac river turned their attention today to the Bolivian fighter plane which caused the disaster.

Officials hoped to find in the battered remains of the P-38 some clue to the cause of its collision Tuesday with an Eastern Airlines passenger plane. The collision caused the sudden death of 55 persons and left only the Bolivian pilot still alive.

The divers, slogging along the muddy river bed in ooze up to their waists, succeeded late yesterday in freeing the front end of the DC-4 transport. It was shredded almost unbelievably in places.

Workers continued grappling along the bottom—35 feet deep at that point—for the three victims still not accounted for.

The night air was planned to turn next to a search for the Bolivian plane. There has been speculation that radio trouble in the P-38 was to blame for its failure to heed repeated warnings from the tower to stay out of the transport's way.

The night pilot, Bolivian Aviation Director Erick Rios Bridoux, rested in an Alexandria, Va., hospital with a fractured spine and two broken ribs. He was still unaware of all that happened since he entered the National Airport Traffic Pattern for a landing Tuesday.

Lawmakers pressed their demands for a thorough investigation of the tragedy, and Civil Aeronautics Board a six-man panel to start hearings.

D. W. Rentzel, civil aeronautics administrator, issued a statement late yesterday clearing Eastern Airlines of any responsibility for the tragedy.

The Bolivian government expressed "the most profound regard" for the accident.

Technically, the Bolivian P-38 became a commercial plane with its sale by the United States government, and was legally entitled to use National Airport facilities.

Rios Bridoux was flight-checking the fighter preparatory to its removal to Bolivia when he collided with the transport as both were attempting to land.

The crash occurred despite the frantic efforts of the airport control tower to avert it. Spectators said the fighter smashed into the larger plane, ripping it in two.

One section of the DC-4 dropped to the river bank; the other fell into the water and embedded itself in the slimy bottom.

Newkirk Would Name Woman to School Board

At a meeting of the Women's Republican Club Tuesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said he felt a woman should be named to the Board of Education, and that he would appoint one, if elected.

Mayor Newkirk told the meeting he never had made an unequivocal promise in 1947 to appoint a woman.

Mayor Newkirk also discussed such campaign issues as taxes and assessments, and told of some of the improvements made in the city under his administration.

Other speakers were Joe Kelly, Republican candidate for alderman-at-large and Raymond J. Alho, Republican candidate for city judge.

Arthur A. Davis, Jr. discussed the amendments and propositions to be voted upon Election Day.

Mediators May Issue Invitation

Hoosier Owners Reject Separate Pact With U.M.W., but Lewis Accepted

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Reports that the government may soon step into the coal strike revived today with word that Indiana operators have refused separate peace talks with John L. Lewis.

One highly-placed official close by watching the steel-and-coal crisis said: "We can't let Lewis go much beyond this weekend."

He indicated that unless there is some progress toward settling the 46-day coal strike the government will mediate Lewis and operators to Washington negotiations, probably some time next week.

Failure of such federal talks would put the coal problem up to President Truman. Up to now Mr. Truman has held that neither the coal nor steel strikes has reached the national emergency stage.

The Indiana operators last night turned down a proposal of Gov. Henry Schricker of Indiana for a separate coal pact covering that state. Lewis had accepted the idea, saying he could submit any tentative offer to his union's policy committee at its meeting in Chicago Monday.

The Indiana operators discussed the idea and rejected it. Harvey Carterhead, secretary of the Indiana Coal Producers' Association, said: "The issues involved are national in character and cannot be reconciled to district negotiations."

This evident decision to stick to industry-wide bargaining was a blow to Lewis' strategy to make a separate deal with Indiana's Illinois mine operators in hopes the rest of the soft coal industry would go along.

An appeal similar to Gov. Schricker's was made by Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. But Stevenson confined himself to a plea for both sides for a quick peace plan.

Minnesota's Gov. Hubert H. Youngdahl also called for an end to the strike, but he addressed his appeal to President Truman.

"Your earnest efforts to bring the coal strike to an immediate end are hereby solicited," Youngdahl wrote. "The subsequent acute suffering in our severe winter climate can be avoided."

Like Youngdahl, Schricker and Stevenson said their states are suffering from fuel shortages with cold weather setting in.

The only coal negotiations that have been going on of late have been the miners' union and southern operators were broken off yesterday by the operators.

Four Plead Guilty

Are Charged as Smugglers of Cocaine; 10 Are Being Investigated

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Four men and a woman members of an alleged international cocaine smuggling ring, pleaded guilty yesterday in federal court to charges of conspiracy to violate the Federal Narcotics Law.

Judge William Bondy set Nov. 29 for sentencing.

Pleading guilty were Rafael Rosendo, 32, Diego Gonzalez, 41; Luis Vargas, 43; Felix Cabrera, 48; and Peter Roman, 26. All gave New York city addresses.

Miss Roman's mother, Maria, 53, pleaded innocent and trial was set for Nov. 17.

They were accused of being members of a mob led by Eduardo Balazara, 48, of North Great River, N. Y., who was convicted and sentenced to five years in jail and a fine of $10,000.

The group allegedly imported the cocaine from Peru. Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph P. Martin said that at least 10 persons still are under investigation.

Reynolds Regains Hour

Damascus, Syria, Nov. 3 (AP)—Milton Reynolds regained an hour today in his attempt to get around the globe faster than any commercial airline passenger ever has before. The millionaire pen manufacturer picked up the hour between Istanbul and Damascus.

Previously, at Brussels, he had recovered 30 minutes of the seven hours he lost at Shannon Airport, Ireland, waiting for a London fog to lift. Reynolds arrived here at 7:05 a. m. Damascus time (12:05 a. m. EST) in a Pan American airplane with 28 other passengers. He took off for Karachi, Pakistan, an hour later.

stated that he did not know how this had happened because his superiors had told him nothing could be done. Finally, Johnson stated that it was his opinion that the assessments in Esopus were too low and that the properties there were not actually assessed at more than 17 per cent of their value.

Upon the conclusion of Johnson's talk, Chairman Wilson Lefever called on Attorney Egan. Before doing so he said, "I am more instrumental in persuading people in my district to join the New Paltz district than anyone else. I would never have done so had I known this result would follow. I am trying to find out who is responsible for this situation."

Egan opened his remarks by saying that he knew that the people in the two school districts had a just cause for complaint and that they were entitled to know exactly who was responsible for their plight. He then pointed out that the new state equalization rate was fixed by the State Board of Equalization and Assessments and that neither the County Board of Supervisors, the supervisor, the town board, the school board or any other local official had anything whatever to do with it. He also said that while it was no part of his duty to do so, Supervisor Cameron and the chairman of the board of assessors, had appeared at a hearing before the state board held on May 19, together with Vincent Connolly, their attorney, and vigorously protested against the new state rate for the Town of Esopus. Egan added that so far as the county equalization rate was concerned, Cameron had succeeded in holding it at 45 per cent, to the distinct advantage of taxpayers in the Town of Esopus.

Replying to Johnson's explanation of his position in the matter, Egan said: "If there is any one person responsible for the plight you people find yourselves in, it is Ralph Johnson, your district superintendent." Egan then said that had Johnson taken the same interest in the problems of the Esopus taxpayers as he took on behalf of taxpayers in the Wallkill district, that the probabilities were that the state rates for Esopus would have been changed in September for Esopus as they had been for the towns of Gardiner, Shawangunk and Plattekill.

Egan then read to the meeting a letter from Attorney Lloyd R. Lefever of Kingston who had filed the protest in the Wallkill district. In this letter Attorney Lefever put the blame for the failure to protest as to the Esopus rates upon Johnson. The letter in part said:

"It is now apparent to me that Mr. Johnson had the opportunity from September 3rd, until September 9th, to re-examine the situation involving the New Paltz Centralized School District. He certainly could have requested that in my protest to the state board that a like protest be made of the equalization rates of the towns in the New Paltz Centralized School District. He led me to believe that such a protest was not necessary. Furthermore, he as superintendent of schools could have gone directly to the State Board of Equalization and requested the change in equalization rates for the towns within the New Paltz Centralized School District."

At the conclusion of Egan's talk, Johnson was asked if he wanted to make any reply. Johnson stated that he was at a disadvantage because Egan was a lawyer and he therefore did not want to get into any debate on the subject. He said that he had fully explained his position in the matter and had no apologies to make for anything he had done.

Chamber Requests

protect the varied interests of the members of this community. On October 20, the Terry Brick Corporation declared it was unable to meet its debts as they matured and petitioned the U. S. District Court for relief under Chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act. That petition was filed in New York by the corporation's $40,000 a year president, Leo E. Schwurstein of Yonkers. In the petition he asked that the company be continued in possession of the business. Company assets, according to the schedule filed in the proceeding, are $490,000 in fixed assets and the stock in wholly owned subsidiaries at $1,063,491. Liabilities include first and second mortgages of $67,000, notes and accounts payable and miscellaneous liabilities of $769,788; and outstanding debenture bonds totaling $1,697,891. A number of court actions are pending against the corporation, the largest a $41,000 judgment on which the company has allegedly defaulted on a $2,500 payment on September 26 and on weekly payments of $1,500 since then, the petition stated.

The letter sent by Teetsel to Boyd is as follows: Mr. Melville Boyd, Secretary Unofficial Creditors Committee 141 Broadway New York 6, New York. Dear Mr. Boyd:

We understand that you have been named secretary of an unofficial group of creditors in connection with the Terry Brick Corporation bankruptcy proceedings. The brick yards are considered a community asset and we are also vitally interested because of the employment provided. We believe that the yards could operate successfully and profitably under proper and new management.

We would appreciate it if your committee would give due consideration to the appointment of a representative on the creditors committee who can properly and adequately protect the varied interests of the members of this community.

Very truly yours,
KINGSTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
Robert E. Teetsel, President.

Mayor Says . . .

to aid in the solution of Kingston's housing shortage. Isn't it strange that the Democratic candidate, at this late date, finds it politically expedient, to say that he is "for housing," in the light of the contrary record of his party in this city?

In his radio address last night, the Democratic candidate charged that I vetoed a proposal to permit a public referendum on the housing project. The Democratic candidate should know that the state law does not permit a public referendum on that question.

Gives His Stand

I have today, in answer to a questionnaire submitted to me by The Kingston Taxpayers League, stated that I am in favor of a public housing project for approximately one hundred families at a location acceptable to the city housing authority, the Common Council and the citizens generally.

In order to determine public acceptance of a suitable site as well as the acceptance of any future public housing project as a whole, I will call public hearings to give all citizens an opportunity to express their opinions and will be guided accordingly.

HEAVY TRAFFIC POSES PROBLEM

This is the greatest production year in the history of the automobile industry. In less than ten months the motor makers have turned out 5,359,000 cars and trucks, smashing the 20-year record established in booming 1929.

The new peak was achieved despite numerous work stoppages. A shutdown forced by the current steel and coal strikes could not spoil the record, although some experts predict the factories will lose easily a month's output through depletion of their steel stocks.

The best guess now is that final 1949 production figures will range close to 5,800,000 units. And this huge outpouring must somehow be accommodated by already congested highways and parking facilities throughout the country.

What curve production will follow in the years ahead no one can tell for sure, of course. But Sumner Slichter, veteran economist, forecasts in the current Atlantic Monthly that by 1980 there will be two cars for every family in the United States. That would put the automobile population somewhere above 80,000,000, as compared with the present 41,000,000.

Even if only half this gain is realized, it will place burdens upon the nation's road network that will make today's traffic difficulties look like child's play. Some time soon the country is going to have to come to grips with this prospect in a far more realistic fashion than it has ever exhibited to date.

As Fortune Magazine points out in its November issue, the improvements made in our highway system since the war ended have put it back about where it was in 1933—in terms of general condition and adequacy. We still have the 1933-1949 lag to make up before we start keeping pace with current advances in traffic volume.

As traffic mounts and population multiplies in our big cities, the cost of highway development becomes staggering. Every evidence indicates that normal sources of revenue will fall way short of meeting the needs of a sound system.

Either the nation must be prepared to face a stiff addition to its general tax bill or it must accept broader use of toll highways to get the required expansion.

Government officials frown on toll roads as wasteful, duplicating, and an extra tax burden on motorists. But state after state is turning to them for the answer to the pressing traffic puzzle. Tolls seem easier to impose than new general levies.

The outlook is no brighter when it comes to parking facilities. Cars by the thousands converge every day on the downtown areas of giant centers like New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. The flow in and out resembles the Sunday crawl that has long plagued holiday drivers. But the worst problem is that too often there is no place to put the car once you get it downtown.

A few cities have developed big underground garages as partial solutions. But unless huge new facilities are created soon in many places, the downtown areas are likely to lose more and more business to outlying sectors where parking is possible.

Someone recently suggested the ultimate dilemma to which we may some day come in this jam-packed automobile age: a man will buy a car in a downtown showroom and find that he can't get it onto the street to drive home.

Maybe we ought to be glad steel shortages will cost us that one month's production. That's 500,000 fewer cars to clog the highways by Christmas.

WARRIORS

Every word of the headlines and stories about the inter-service quarrels probably is greedily read by the Russian leaders. The impression they must get is that our fighting forces are torn widely apart, and can no more cooperate than Stalin and Tito. This must be encouraging to the Kremlin.

For this reason, various leaders of our armed forces have appeared to bring war-

STETTINUS TESTIFIES

Painfully, the truth of Yalta is being extracted, and the searcher for the facts has to look for paragraphs and sentences which shed light upon one of the most outrageous betrayals in human history. We have to dig not only in American material, but as much in British, German, French, Japanese and Chinese material. The Nuremberg and Tokyo trials help considerably.

At Yalta, were three men of extraordinary power, Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, settling the affairs of the world, redrawing maps, disposing populations, changing the character of societies. Meanwhile millions were fighting—and many were dying—and nobody could know why, except these three men. Their published statements during the war are of little help, for they did not always tell the truth.

Edward Stettinius was at the conferences and now he writes about it. He tells how these big men—the big three, they came to be called—sat talking of how to make the peace. Churchill and Roosevelt felt that the smaller nations ought to have something to say concerning it. Stalin, disgruntled. According to Stettinius, Stalin said:

"Yugoslavia, Albania, and such small countries do not deserve to be at this table. Do you want Albania to have the same status as the United States? What has Albania done in this war to merit such a standing? We three have to decide how to keep the peace of the world, and it will not be kept unless we three decide to do it."

"The eagle should permit the small birds to sing, and care not where they sang."

Then this episode occurred. At one point in the dinner conversation Vishinsky, in a side remark to Bohlen, warned that Russia would never agree to the right of the small powers to judge an act of the Great Powers when Bohlen observed that the United States delegation at Yalta had to keep in mind the concern of the American people that the rights of the smaller nations be protected. Vishinsky replied, "The American people should learn to obey their leaders." Bohlen then said that if Vishinsky would visit the United States he would like to see him undertake to tell that to the American people. Vishinsky replied that he would be delighted to come to America and tell this to the American people.

This episode, which Stettinius reports, explains the entire conduct of Soviet Russia since the war ended. They were fighting an imperialist war for empire and territory. They made no bones about that. As nationalism, except Russia nationalism, is abhorrent to a Marxist, the emotional complexes which derive from nationalism, love of country, pride in tradition, joy in a particular language or faith in a religious grouping mean nothing to them. It is curious that when Stalin was a small man in the Russian hierarchy, he defended the small nations, but that was a long time ago.

The Communist manifesto, the bible of this movement, written by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, said:

"The working men have no country. We cannot take from them what they have not got."

This was published in 1848; Roosevelt and Churchill should have been familiar with this guide to Stalin's thinking. They should have gone to a conference with him without first briefing themselves on Communism.

Another point that Stettinius brings to the surface in this book, "Roosevelt and the Russians," needs mentioning. It is generally suggested that the United States is responsible for the veto in the United Nations. Stettinius tells differently. "After the dinner had adjourned and Stalin and the French had left, I discussed the veto with the Security Council with Churchill and Edson. The prime minister insisted that he was inclined to accept the Russian suggestion of unanimity at all times, because he felt that everything depended on maintaining the unity of the three powers. Without that, he added, the world would be doomed to inevitable catastrophe, and therefore anything that preserved that unity was a good thing."

But today we know that we face catastrophe. Churchill, as Roosevelt, could not see beyond his nose. Both improvised concerning immediate situations. They had no philosophy of action; Stalin's course was clear to him. Therefore he was their master.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

DIET AND TOOTH DECAY

We are familiar with the advertisement of a paint company which states that if you save the surface you save all. This is probably true of wood and paint, but it is not entirely true of teeth.

Research dentists state that brushing the teeth with powder or paste regularly will preserve the enamel or outside covering of the teeth. It is through the enamel that most decay or caries of the teeth occurs. Particles of food left on the teeth gradually cause a small crack or tiny cavity in the enamel, and once the enamel is broken, harmful organisms cause decay of the underlying structures. Thus it is good teeth insurance to brush the teeth.

However, all decay of teeth does not occur from the break in enamel or surface covering of the teeth; the teeth must be kept strong by good nourishing blood from good nourishing food. Thus several years ago, the Drs. Agnew, from experiments in the foreign mission field, found that keeping children under strictly controlled diets, "complete" diets of decay occurred with diets high in sugar and diets low in sugar but always with enough of the building foods, especially dairy products which are readily absorbed into the blood.

In other words it is the state of nourishment of the body when the protective foods are given—that is the important point as far as tooth decay is concerned.

Winners in Every Conflict

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Here's the dope on Admiral Forrest Sherman, the man who favored unification.

He was Forrestal's favorite.

Forrestal had him earmarked for chief of naval operations, considered him the broadest military man he had ever known. In fact, Forrestal sent Sherman to the Mediterranean with the idea of replacing Adm. Richard Conolly as fleet commander for Europe. But Conolly begged to stay on, and Forrestal gave in, expecting to make the transfer later.

Sherman and Conolly have never gotten along since. Conolly being an old-line, unimaginative, battleship admiral, Sherman is just the opposite—alert, aggressive, with his eyes ahead.

Sherman is short, tanned, ruddy with straight gray hair. He wears glasses at his desk. He was a champion fencer at Annapolis, but his favorite exercise now is walking. Aboard ship, he paces the deck, on land, he rather walks a few blocks than catch a cab.

Though he has a dynamic mind, Sherman's personality falls short of Admiral Halsey's. He doesn't play golf or tennis, but reads avidly for recreation. He picks up weighty works, such as the London Economist.

Sherman won the complete respect of Gen. Lauris Norstad while writing the Unification Act. Note—Sherman was ready to testify with the other admirals on Capitol Hill. He flew into town, and had his statement all ready. But Secretary of Defense Johnson already had him in mind for chief of naval operations, didn't want him to get splattered with mud. So Sherman was kept in the shadow, never took the stand.

War Clouds

Atomic-war preparations in Britain have been intensified since news of the Russian A-bomb. London would be the first object of attack. Therefore the British Army has ordered 500,000 vest-pocket Geiger counters to detect radioactivity. Air-raid wardens will use them to report on what parts of the city are radioactive.

Ripley's Believe It or Not!

Chief result of the American ambassadorial conference in London was to appoint "Chip" Bohlen, an expert on Russia, to mastermind U. S. strategy behind the Iron Curtain.

Stalin recently called Tito the "Little Hitler." The truth is Stalin is shorter than Tito.

Tito's chief trouble in defending Yugoslavia is ammunition. Yugoslavians' artillery guns and tanks were supplied by the Soviet, so now Tito can't get spare parts and ammunition.

The Yugoslavs are dickering with the Italians to manufacture ammunition in northern Italy. And it was only a short time ago the two countries were towing over Trieste!

Secretary Acheson's planning chief, George Kennan, has just completed a secret study of what the cold war may cost. It runs to 50 billion a year!

Truman will not appoint J. C. Connelley to the National Labor Relations Board when his term expires this year. Labor is down on him.

Labor leaders now figure that if they can't repeal the Taft-Hartley Act, the best tactic is to pressure for pro-labor men on the N.L.R.B.

Usually John L. Lewis has made the mine operators sweat. Now the operators are letting John sweat. He has been desperately anxious to settle the coal strike.

Ben Enright, president of U. S. Steel and the son of a coal miner, two weeks ago urged his company executives to sign a one-year contract with the union along the lines recommended by the President's fact-finding board.

C.I.O. Boss Phil Murray, who knows better, has let his company get away with an unfair habit which boomerangs against labor. Though Housing Expediter Tighe Woods has been castigated by the real estate lobby, the C.I.O. convention in Cleveland also castigated him for being the friend of the real estate lobby.

It looks like Woods was really trying to be impartial. The C.I.O. convention also castigated Jim Reynolds, conscientious N.L.R.B. member, as anti-labor. Reynolds has tangled with some labor bosses but has a long record of fighting for the little guy.

Patent Cy Ching

Unsung hero of the steel negotiations was long, lanky Cy Ching who, at the age of 71, resigned from the U. S. Rubber Company two years ago to help his country as a labor conciliator.

Ching's patience is that of Job's. All week-long, hour after hour, day after day, like a broken phonograph record, he listened to the same company argument that workers must contribute to the pension fund.

But your captive coal mines have a non-contributory agreement with John L. Lewis' Ching told U. S. Steel Vice President John Stephen.

"No" and look what happened to Lewis' pension fund. Stephen replied "It's been bankrupt because it never was set up on a sound, actuarial basis in the first place. We want to establish a sound pension plan for U. S. Steel employees."

Ching argued that Phil Murray had proved his responsibility by his relentless fight against Communist elements in the C.I.O. In fact, Murray's leadership was now being endangered because of his broad-gauged acceptance of the fact-finding board's proposals for ending the steel strike, which management had rejected.

As a result, C.I.O. left-wingers were yelling for his scalp. Didn't it mean something to the company to be able to do business with a high-class, level-headed, responsible American like Phil Murray?

Ching asked Ching. "Well, this question of contributory pensions is a matter of principle with us," interposed Roger Blough, counsel for U. S. Steel. The presidential fact-finders would have come up with a different solution if they had to run a steel mill, he lamented.

Maybe the fact-finders also took into consideration the problems of those who work in a steel mill, subtly suggested Ching.

"But contributory pensions are now an accepted fact—a part of our economy," argued Stephens. "Social Security pensions are contributory. The Railroad Retirement Act is based on the same principle. Private industry cannot be criticized for going along with the pattern established by Congress."

So it went—sometimes into the night. (Copyright, 1949, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Bethlehem Steel Strike Viewed as Unnecessary, Since Settlement Was Reached

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 3.—Was a steel strike really necessary? The settlement just announced between the Bethlehem Steel Company and the Steelworkers' Union is plainly one that could have been achieved, with that company at least, by negotiation without a strike.

The Bethlehem Company had a non-contributory plan, anyway. The issue, therefore, was not whether pensions should be wholly company financed or one to which the employees contribute.

As it turns out, the employees and the company share equally the contributions to social insurance, while the pension payments remain as they have been for several years at Bethlehem on the non-contributory basis.

The exact amount that the workers get for pensions cannot be measured now on an hourly basis at all. The Bethlehem plan has provided heretofore a minimum of $50 a month, but the benefits actually amounted to $80 a month and now these will go up to $100, which is what the fact-finding board recommended.

There is one point, however, which has been noted. It is that the Bethlehem Company pledges itself to give increased benefits to persons already on the pension rolls though they are no longer members of the union and are retired. This means a liability so high that it is doubtful whether an accurate measurement of its cost can be made in general for various companies without a great deal more factual information.

It is estimated that in the case of one company the cost might run as high as $100,000,000. This means a liability that can only be assumed with the full approval of stockholders. Managements and boards of directors may settle with the union and urge in good faith that the agreement be accepted but stockholders' meetings will have to be called and the matter voted on by the true owners of the companies.

Another important point which cannot be measured is the effect on the government's own Social Security system. Congress has an increase in both worker and employer contributions. Some of the current Social Security payments are 24 cents an hour for the workers and 24 cents an hour for the company. Then the remaining five cents of the original 10-cent "package" is paid for pensions by the company. This means at least a 10-cent contribution from the company. When however a company is doing the Social Security law, it could happen that the worker would be getting an increase in contributions toward pension of a credit would be given the worker for this, thus splitting the five cents for pension.

It is plain that it will take several weeks to work out the details of the pension agreements with the union, and then the holders of pension will have to be held to get satisfaction. If a holder refuse, there may have to be renegotiation and modification of some features of the contract.

The original is considered a fact. The President's fact-finding board that there be a 10-cent increase in the Social Security law, it is a practical fact. It is a fact that the Social Security law is a fact. It is a fact that the Social Security law is a fact.

The more the various plans are developed, the more it will become apparent that there was a subject that should have been negotiated in collectively bargaining conferences just why Phil Murray refused to negotiate with any of the large companies and then suddenly, during his C.I.O. convention, when it had been a strike—brought about a conference and in a day or two worked out a settlement is one of the questions to which Congress ought to have an answer.

Bystanders have paid millions of dollars out of their pockets for the expense of this maneuver. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Nov. 2.—Having given some publicity to a book purporting to be a truthful but "unauthorized" biography of John L. Lewis by one Saul Alinsky, I feel a duty to report that a distinguished citizen who was held up to scorn and shame in one of his important episodes, has informed me that that particular portion of the book is a lie.

The subject is K. P. Keller, of Detroit, the president of Chrysler Corporation. Mr. Keller had no desire to wage controversy with Alinsky, whose own publicity house, distributed by a publishing house of confused and unscrupulous identity, frankly boast that he has been called a "Red." But he consented to the publication of that portion of his answering letter which throws at Alinsky a charge of falsehood and flagrant violation of the basic journalistic practice of confining the person who is to be put in the stocks. The publisher's style themselves "G. P. Putnam's Sons, including the publications of Alinsky, Bunch and Company." Then "publicity" methods are sensational.

In the Keller episode Alinsky wrote that John L. Lewis threatened to slug Keller in the face and that Keller acted the coward. This episode follows right after the dramatic, but not necessarily true, version of the scene in which Gov. Frank Murphy, of Michigan, later a justice of the Supreme Court, now dead, abdicated his powers, betrayed his trust and bowed to the criminal C.I.O. insurrection at the Chevrolet plant of General Motors in Flint, Mich.

Considering the fact that Lewis never breathed them while Murphy lived, knowing something of the unity and selflessness of Lewis and in view of his accusation against Alinsky, we should not accept the details of this scene of abject cowardice. However, we do know that Murphy did flinch and abandon the 100,000 workers of General Motors to the Nazi-Fascist Marxist slave-masters.

From the outside, I know that, thereby, Murphy, founded the lawless monopoly which now has the nation by the throat with strikes in coal and steel.

Having depicted a General Motors Alinsky told us that the C.I.O. moved around Chicago with a window strike. He then depicts the last Alinsky P. C. as a "united front" and a "hard-boiled" anti-union production boss. These are phrases of falsehood without elaboration, but the honest that Alinsky has been called a "Red" and depicts a "hard-boiled" anti-union production boss. Republican Candidates

GEORGE G. FICHTNER

George G. Fichtner of Phoenix, who is completing his fourth term as superintendent of highways for the Town of Shandaken, has an enviable record as a conscientious and efficient public official in the mountain area. He is the Republican candidate to succeed himself in office.

Among the lesser used roads in Shandaken that have received careful repair and maintenance during the past year are the Winne Road in the lower district, the upper Broadstreet Hollow Road in the middle district, and the Dry Brook Road in the upper district. The excellent work done on these roads is typical of that done under Mr. Fichtner's direction and supervision throughout the town during each year he has held office. In line with his policy of over-all efficiency, the superintendent and his road maintenance personnel consistently take particular pride in keeping the town garage and all equipment in the finest condition possible. Even a casual inspection will show this to be true.

An important phase of Mr. Fichtner's record is the cooperation he has received from the Ulster County Highway Department. Last winter was the second in which snow removal in Shandaken was handled at maximum dispatch because of a special working agreement between the county and Superintendent Fichtner. The importance of this cooperation for winter drivers in Shandaken can not be over-emphasized.

It is generally agreed that the Bellvue Mountain Ski Center development will be one of the best business assets not only for the Town of Shandaken but also for the entire Catskill area. The Ski Center work is being done under the direction of the State Conservation Department and in this too, Mr. Fichtner has been wisely cooperative. One result of the cooperation is that the Town of Shandaken will receive from the Ski Center contractors approximately $5,000 for the rental of town equipment.

Last June Mr. Fichtner was elected president of the newly organized Ulster County Association of Town Superintendents of Highways, a bi-partisan organization formed to promote efficiency in town highway maintenance. Voters should judge a candidate by his record. Mr. Fichtner welcomes a study of the work he has done in office. If re-elected, he promises to do as he has done in the past, perform his duties capably and economically and devote full time to his important office.

Held as A.W.O.L.

Robert Donald Gardner, 19, of Michigan City, Ind., who was released from the Ulster county jail Tuesday after serving a 15-day vagrancy sentence, has been turned over to military authorities to answer a charge that he was absent without leave from the U. S. Army, the sheriff's office reported. Gardner was arrested on the vagrancy charge by state police at Lake Katrine on October 17 and was sentenced to 15 days in jail by Justice of the Peace Percy Bush. Subsequent investigation disclosed Gardner was a member of the U. S. Army, and troops notified military authorities.

Chinese Auction Set for Tomorrow

Arrangements for the Chinese auction at the First Dutch Reformed Church School Bethany Hall Friday night are being completed today as more items are being donated for the sale. A display of articles will be held from 7 to 7:30 o'clock Friday night, followed by a short program of quarter and community singing. The auction will begin at 8 p. m. Among the items scheduled for the church school in religious education. Sixty-eight per cent of Japan's eligible women cast ballots in their country's last general election, January, 1949.

Kemper Resigns Post

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—James S. Kemper resigned today as treasurer of the Republican National Committee because the G.O.P.'s reserve funds have fallen below $125,000. Kemper, a Dewey delegate at the 1948 G.O.P. convention, also said he has been handicapped by a difference between his opinions and those of "the party—officially or unofficially"—on political issues.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Nov. 2—Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton accompanied Mrs. Earl DeWitt of Gardiner to Newburgh Saturday.

Nicholas T. Cocks spent a few days last week at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Gribb in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sherwood and daughter, Mary Lou of New Brunswick, N. J., spent the weekend at the home of Mr. Sherwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood. Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary on Oct. 30. Mrs. Libbie Dillards and Mrs. Carrie Ferguson of Newburgh spent Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ferguson's brother, C. F. Booth.

Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton attended the funeral of Mrs. George Morritt at the McHugh Funeral Home in Wallkill last Thursday afternoon. About 50 persons attended the family night supper at the New Hurley Church Hall Sunday evening. A covered dish supper was enjoyed after which Wilson Edmonds, chairman, took charge and the meeting was opened by all joining in the singing of a hymn. Mr. Edmonds read the Scripture and the Rev. Mr. Tyse led in prayer. The Rev. Richard P. Matlack, a former pastor of the Walden Reformed Church was the guest preacher. The singing of a hymn, prayer and benediction by the Rev. Mr. Matlack closed the evening's program.

The Young Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Roy Deniston Saturday, Nov. 5 at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. John Tyse as the assistant hostess.

The Young Women's Club will serve a turkey supper at the church hall at Sherwood Corners Wednesday, Nov. 9 with services at 5:30 and 7 p. m. Mrs. Roy Deniston is ticket chairman.

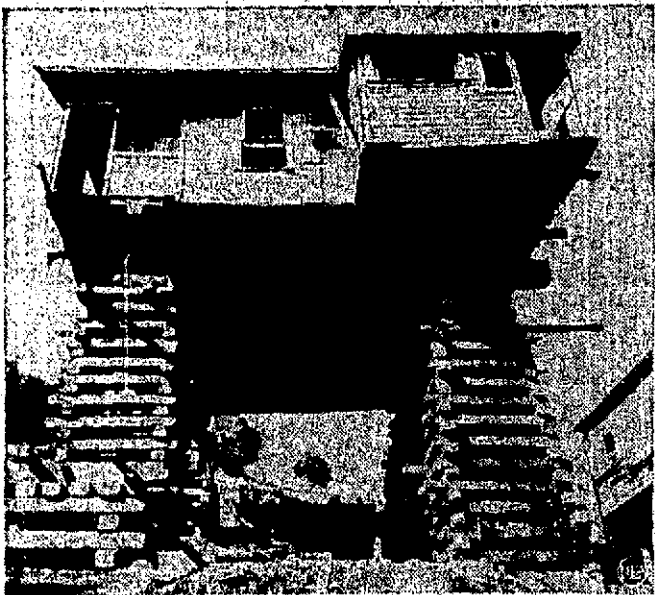

The Wallkill Women's Missionary Society has invited members of the New Hurley Missionary Society to the November meeting in the Wallkill Reformed Church Wednesday, Nov. 9 at 2 p. m. Mrs. Leonard Braam will be the guest speaker.

November will be observed as Domestic Missions Month in the New Hurley Sunday school with special emphasis on work among the American Indians. November 27 will be Mission Sunday and the offering on that day will go for the completion of this work on the chapel at Alenquara. Mrs. W. J. VanWyck will speak on mission work.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heideke celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 26. They were married at the home of Mrs. Heideke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Balknap on October 26, 1892, by the Rev. J. A. Thurston, then pastor of the New Hurley Church. Many neighbors and friends called on them during the day, among which was the Harmony Club of Middletown of which Mrs. Heideke is a member. In the evening they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell at dinner. They were celebrating their 45th anniversary on the same date. They were married at the home of Mrs. Powell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Sutton on Oct. 26, 1897 by the Rev. R. K. Shield, then pastor of the New Hurley Church. Both couples have celebrated together for the past 10 years. Other guests at the dinner were Miss Rose, Betsy, sister of Mrs. Heideke, and Miss Bertha Sutton, sister of Mrs. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin were supper guests at the home of Mrs. Wilkin's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Conklin in Clintonville Monday.

The November meeting of the Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur VanWyck Thursday, Nov. 10 at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Charles Jenkins will present the worship service theme on "Prayer." The roll call card is "Prayer." The topic for discussion will be The Kentucky

NOT SO FIRM A FOUNDATION—"Watch out for that first step" might well be the warning to visitors to this dwelling near Los Angeles. Construction of a freeway forced removal of the house to a new location; but the place needed a full foundation so workmen propped it up like this until a basement could be dug.

Mission led by Mrs. Roscoe Pickens. The Christmas box for Kentucky Mission will be packed at this time.

Guarded Against Reds

Srinagar, Kashmir (AP)—Kashmir's northern and northeastern frontiers are being guarded against infiltration from the Chinese province of Sinkiang, reportedly under the control of the Chinese Communists. A well-informed source here says a large number of Muslim refugees from Sinkiang already have entered Gilgit, which is held by Pakistan. The source adds that it is difficult to tell whether any Communists are among the refugees.

world situations." He recalled an old Siamese expression: "As long

A conference of the United Nations' Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East
(E.C.A.F.E.A.) got a hint the other day as to how Asian lands had been affected by Chinese Communist victories. Members were voting on applications of the two warring governments in Indo-China for admission as associate members. One was the Bao Dai
State, backed by French military power, and the other regime, that of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh, supported by the Soviet Union.

Indonesia, associate member without voting powers, declared itself on behalf of Ho Chi Minh.
Burma, and Thailand, abstained along with Pakistan and the Philippines. India voted for both governments. Bao Dai won.
Burma—torn by civil wars among at least five separate armies—seems orienting itself to the new situation. "One official private said:
"There are new forces in the world and we will want to think seriously about future relationships with neighboring countries."
Two Communist armies are fighting separately against the Socialist government but Burma is anxiously eyeing the Yunnan border where Chinese Communist guerrillas have been active. The government banks on the loyalty of the Kachins who guard the only passable China border where the Burma Road winds its way.

Her Sole Interest
Neighboring Thailand's sole interest is in maintaining itself in a hard, cruel world. It has been successful until now. Outwardly its government is strongly anti-Communist, though some observers say it lacks sufficient military strength to withstand serious pressure from within or without.
The strength of its Communist party is unknown but Thai politics is such an involved, personal thing, anything can happen, especially with so many Chinese in Bangkok.
Many onlookers think Indochina is the key to the future of southeast Asia. They say if the French and Bao Dai regime can hold Indochina other lands can be held against Communism. But Ho Chi
Minh's forces standing off superior
French troops for three years, now control virtually all Viet-Nam territory except the cities.

At night they are even inside the cities.
Some French admit that Bao Dai's baby regime is not making the progress hoped for to wean
Nationalists from Ho Chi Minh's
Communist core.
In Malaya the British have the situation in hand although 3,000 to 5,000 Chinese Communist jungle terrorists are costing Britain much money and harassment.
Down in Indonesia many doubt that even a transfer of sovereignty in a Nationalist fervor.

There are many comparatively wealthy Chinese in Indonesia.
They were previously Kuomint-

Summing up: National movements in southeast Asia look upon setback to the white man's years of supremacy. They want free-

it comes. They can feel a sharp

As Pegler Sees It

whether he was a member of the Communist party.

Keller and Nicholas Kelley, general counsel for Chrysler, faced Lewis and Pressman.

"Keller sat sneering across the table," Allinsky says, "disdainfully looking beyond Lewis and his cohorts with cold arrogance. His insulting stares infuriated C.I.O. leaders. Finally Lewis decided to break down Keller."

"The next day," everyone was acutely uncomfortable and conscious of the frozen aloofness of Keller. His grimaces were beginning to toll on the nerves of Pressman and Frankenstein as they kept stealing glances at their impassive chief. The hours went by with Lewis sitting in complete silence. To Lewis and his associates, Keller's face began to symbolize the attitudes and position of a giant corporation toward its employees. Suddenly, Keller broke his silence. Turning to Lewis with a sneer in his voice he said, "Mr. Lewis, you haven't said a word about this situation. Do you happen to have any comment or contribution?" "Lewis slowly rose to his feet and with a murderous stare at Keller softly replied, "yes, Mr. Keller, yes I have. I am ninety per cent of mind to come around this table right now and with one fell swoop wipe that damn sneer right off your face."

Allinsky says Keller came around the table toward Lewis, put his arm around his shoulder and said: "I'm really not as bad as you make me out to be, Mr. Lewis. Believe me I'm not as bad as that."

Lewis turned and "with complete dignity," told Keller that, in the heat of controversy, one was bound to be indignant. Allinsky says Keller's resistance cracked with this episode.

"I promptly asked Keller, in writing, whether this was true and, very important, too, whether this great reporter so often called a 'red' had asked for his version."

He replied in writing: "I do not know Mr. Allinsky. I have never met him. I have never had any communication from him on any subject."

No such incident as is cited in the quotation in your letter took place. The report is false. None of my six associates who were with Mr. Chrysler and me at Lansing during the conference with Mr. Lewis recalls such a thing. If such an incident had occurred all of us who were there would have known about it because every morning, noon and night we were together and we all discussed what occurred in the conferences themselves.

"As a matter of fact, nothing occurred on a personality level that was at all unusual in such conferences or that would give any substance to the report you quote from Mr. Allinsky's book."

Mr. Keller added that, unlike General Motors, which was "locked into a compromise" while its works were "occupied" by the Communist, Chrysler, he refused for five weeks to see Lewis. He didn't begin the consultations until the goons were withdrawn.

"You may say also," he said, by telephone, supplementing his letter, "that John L. Lewis never went back on any contract with us."

In view of my own detailed knowledge of the facts of that tragic, pivotal, historic time, I

American Labor Party Statement Issued on Election

The executive committee of the American Labor Party of Ulster county issued the following statement at its meeting on 10/27/49.

To the voters of Ulster county: "The American Labor Party in Kingston has not put forth any candidates for this election. The candidates running on the American Labor Party ticket received their designation through writings in the primary, but they do not subscribe to the policies of the American Labor Party. The County Committee of the American Labor Party does not endorse these candidates but strongly urges the defeat of all candidates running under the Democrat-Liberal banner.

The main issue in this campaign should be housing. The Democratic Party is chiefly responsible for the defeat of the public housing project. For this reason and for no other, they should be defeated. Nothing has been done to alleviate the housing shortage in Kingston. We must not permit these who conspired to defeat public housing in the past to remain in position to do the same again. The issue still remains housing and no usual mud-slinging by Republican and Democratic candidates can hide it. The Republican party must be strongly criticized for not calling enough attention to housing during this campaign. They must also be criticized for not repudiating James Martin.

The Executive Committee of Ulster county strongly condemns the tactics of the Republican and Democratic parties in securing their designation on the American Labor Party ticket. These are the politicians who cynically label every movement of the American Labor Party as Red and yet continue to get American Labor Party support through paid stooges. These politicians know nothing of principles nor issues. Hence how could a Democratic party, whose national platform was strong for housing, here in Kingston shamefully defeat it?

The executive committee of the American Labor party of Ulster county wishes to report to the voters of Ulster county that civil liberties to our state and in our union are in danger. We want no more "Peekskills" in the state of New York. When peaceful gatherings are threatened by organized action and law enforcement becomes an imposition then it is time for the people of New York state to demand a halt. We must demand that Gov. Dewey investigate and not whitewash the guilty officials. We must also demand that the state police give proper protection and not participate in mob violence.

Nationally we see again the shame of the modern Alien and Sedition Act that in Jefferson's time was fought by every liberal and progressive. The American people repealed these laws. Today we are again faced by loyalty tests and loyalty purges. The Smith Act, a law against the best American tradition of free thought, is used to persecute a minority party. The greatest nation of the earth is indeed led astray by its narrow administrators when it allows annihilation of the Bill of Rights. We are the possessors of a proud heritage. Jefferson, Lincoln, Jackson, Aitken and F. D. R. were fighters for free political thought. The American Labor party struggles in the very tradition.

The executive committee of the American Labor party of Ulster county condemns the prolongation of the cold war. Now that the Soviet Union has the atom bomb the cold war must come to a halt. The Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact have been nullified by this information. West European economy is in a chaotic stage without proper intercourse with eastern Europe. The collapse of the British pound sterling, the falling of the French rouble, and continuing Italian unemployment can all be related to the Marshall Plan and Atlantic Pact. The military pact has of course become defunct because of the Soviet atom bomb. Our military men have devised the idea that the French army could at any time stop the Soviet army. Therefore the cornerstone of Soviet-American relations now must be cemented to work toward peace. World division, armament races, flying atom bombs cannot make for world progress. We must return to F. D. R. and Henry Wallace to promulgate world progress. We must return to de-nazifying Germany, de-freeze world trade, really help rebuild Europe without political strings, aid colonial peoples to independence, put an end to imperialism, financial or otherwise. This course is important to the future of the American people. The other is atomic war and destruction.

Mrs. Filbert Reveals Flavor Secret of New Mayonnaise

"So many of you have complimented me on my brand new mayonnaise flavor that I want you to know just why it tastes so good," says Mrs. Filbert. "First, I put in lots more egg yolk for richness. Then I add more fresh lemon juice for a good zippy tang. 'I prepare it homemade style—in small batches—so you can enjoy real homemade flavor. And my mayonnaise gets extra-whipped to be sure it's creamy-smooth. 'Of course there's one other step, too, and that's my own secret. But when you taste my mayonnaise, Mrs. Filbert's New Mayonnaise, I'm sure you'll find an exciting flavor that's better than ever!'"

Had Silver Lining

Los Angeles, Nov. 3 (AP)—There is a silver lining to this sad little story about the 80-year-old woman arrested on a charge of begging. The woman is Miss Louise Schmidt, who, officers said, was begging small change from men along the sidewalk yesterday. Policewomen found the silver lining pinned to her undergarments in the form of $2.12 in currency.

John T. Groves for County Treasurer

The Republican candidate for the office of county treasurer at the November 8 election is John T. Groves of Port Ewen, former supervisor of the Town of Esopus, where he has made a notable record as a community worker and businessman.

A native of the Port Ewen community and town in which he served as supervisor, Groves has been highly interested in civic affairs over a period of years. He was chairman of the Port Ewen Water District when it was formed in 1938, and also was active in the purchase of the Spinnaker building in Port Ewen for use as a town auditorium.

A veteran of World War I, he has been a member of the American Legion for 28 years. At present, he is affiliated with the Town of Esopus Post, Prior to its formation several years ago, in which he was active, he was a member of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion. He also is an active member of the Forty and Eight Society.

During World War 2, he was deputy county director of civilian protection and as director in charge of the Town of Esopus, he set up and organized the civilian defense of that township.

Candidate Groves is a former director of the Ross Park, Inc., of Port Ewen and also a member of the Esopus Sportsmen's Club and many other associations and clubs. He was one of the organizers of the famous Port Ewen Drum Corps.

During his term as supervisor, he insisted upon keeping the town on a business basis. Working for the benefit of the town in every worthwhile cause, he kept in mind always the fact that the taxpayer must be considered in the raising and expenditure of funds. An example of his good business practices was the purchase of the new town building in Port Ewen. When it became necessary to acquire a new place for the town offices when the building which had been occupied by the town was sold to A. E. Vetski of Connelly, the title was taken to the Spinnaker building.

The property was bought out of surplus funds which had been acquired over a period of years without any added burden on the taxpayers.

On his discharge from the Navy following World War 1, Mr.

Groves entered business with Ernest A. Kelly and Henry C. Connelly, when the three bought out the Archie Winter's Express Co., they conducted that business until 1926 when Mr. Groves purchased the interest of the other partners and continued to operate the business under the name of the John T. Groves General Trucking. This business he has very successfully continued to operate.

His record as supervisor for the Town of Esopus has been a commendable one and eminently qualified him for the important position of county treasurer. His election on November 8 will assure the continuance of good government.

WRONG AGAIN, MR. MAYOR!

You said that Mr. Betts, the Democratic candidate for Alderman-at-Large, while assessor, had reduced the assessment of The National Ulster County Bank building from $60,000 to $45,000. You gave that as your only reason for decreasing the assessment on the Whalen Drug building by more than $13,000. Mr. Betts said that instead of decreasing the bank's assessment he had increased it from $40,000 to $45,000.

After you made this reckless charge, the Republican city chairman called at the bank. He inspected the tax bills of that bank. He found out but has not yet admitted that Mr. Betts had told the public the truth about the bank's assessment. He learned then that Mayor Newkirk had not stated the facts. Neither he nor the mayor have had the courage to admit that Mr. Betts was right.

THE RECORD PROVES YOU WRONG HERE!!

The Record Proves You WRONG At Least SIX TIMES More!!

1. Walter Reade Theatre, Wall Street.
2. Walter Reade Theatre, Broadway.
3. New York Telephone Company.
4. American Telephone & Telegraph.
5. Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation.
6. West Shore Railroad.

Unjustified Reductions to the Above Corporations Cost the City More Than Half A Million Dollars in Assessment Loss.

Who Will Make Up This Loss??

YOU, MR. TAXPAYER, IN HIGHER TAXES!!!!

BECAUSE MAYOR NEWKIRK REDUCED ASSESSMENTS ON OUT OF TOWN CORPORATIONS AND BIG UTILITIES!!

Elect An Administration That Will Show No Favoritism!!

VOTE ROW B ON NOVEMBER 8th

Loughran Says

preliminary survey and that report had been forwarded to the superintendent of the department of public works.

Outlines Site

Outlining the proposed site, Loughran said the original plan which placed the site of the Kingston end of the bridge near the site of the old trolley shed in Kingston Point Park had been changed about 225 feet further south and practically on the site of the former Kingston Point pavilion. This was done to remove the bridge further from the existing oil storage tanks just north of Kingston Point park since the tanks would have presented a serious fire hazard had the bridge been erected close to them.

From its shore junction near the corner pavilion the proposed alignment runs over the marshes parallel to North street and then slants over toward the Cordis property and across that property, crosses a ravine and then extends up through North Rondout, running about a quarter mile south of Devil's Lake and on up toward Route 9V.

Exactly where the bridge approach will intersect 9V and just how that intersection will be connected with the new arterial highway depends on a further study of the locality. Consideration is now being given to this junction point. Arrangements must be made for bridge traffic, 9V traffic and also traffic on the new Thruway. A junction with 209 and 28 also must be considered in planning the Thruway and the Kingston-Rhinoclaw bridge approach. One plan is for a connection near the Neighborhood road while also under consideration is the making of contract with the Thruway near the state police barracks at Lake Katrine.

Loughran said the bridge, with approaches, would cost in the neighborhood of $15,000,000 but he said the Bridge Authority now has some $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 saved up to apply on the cost, so it was expected there probably would be need for not more than $8,000,000 in bond issued to finance the project.

Cites Traffic Figures

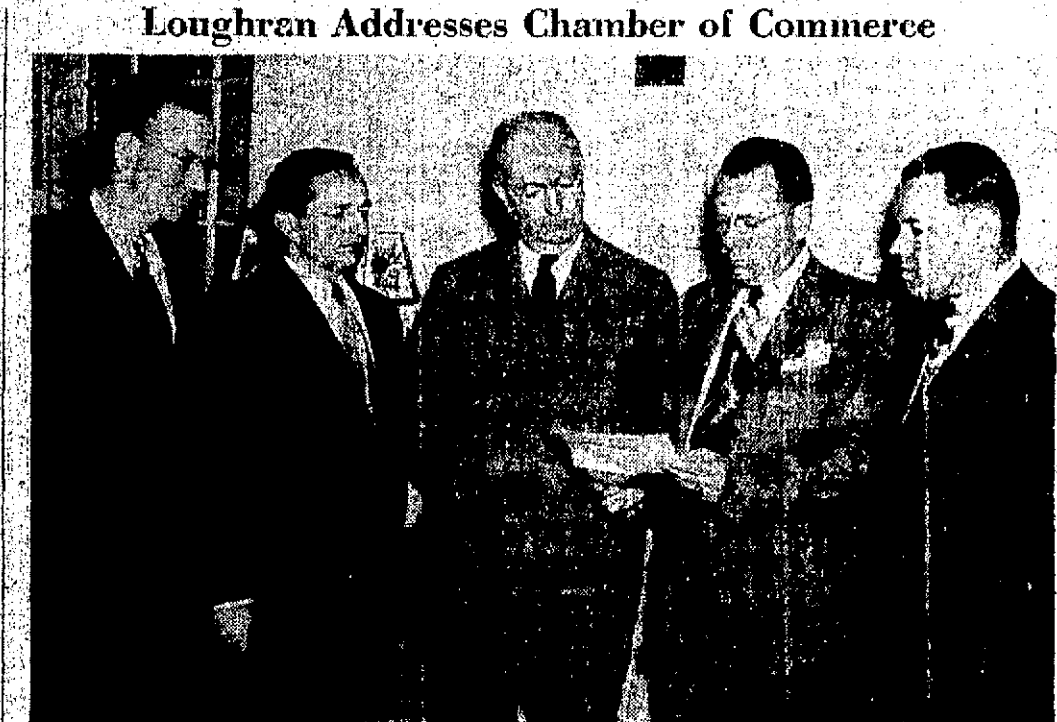

During his talk Loughran cited traffic figures over the existing three bridges which showed that the 1949 traffic over the Catskill structure had increased some 11% by August over last year or over 159,000 vehicles. The Mid-Hudson bridge at Poughkeepsie shows over 8% in traffic and the Bear Mountain bridge less than 2%. Traffic over the Kingston-Rhinoclaw ferry has increased slightly too.

The Catskill bridge has carried over 4,000 vehicles each 24 hours while the Poughkeepsie bridge has carried over 13,000 in twenty-four hours. Over the week-end the Poughkeepsie bridge has carried as high as 50,000 and more vehicles.

Loughran pointed out the apparent need of an additional bridge to handle increasing traffic and said a bridge at Kingston would be highly desirable for through traffic traveling east-west, north or south. At Kingston it is not necessary to cross a mountain range such as the Shawangunks in traveling from the Poughkeepsie bridge west or south and there will be direct connections north.

Following the talk of Loughran the matter of amending the by-laws to change the method of electing officers as submitted by a committee, was acted on. The proposed amendment was defeated and the matter referred back to the committee.

Executive Secretary Kurt then gave a very interesting talk on the activities of the Chamber in which he revealed that a study made of local employment showed a very high percentage of Kingston people employed. There are some 13,000 persons in the city working, either in business or self employed. This is far above the average.

Reports on the status and plans for the proposed Kingston-Rhinoclaw bridge and the Broadway crossing elimination projects were given during Wednesday night's open membership meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Those taking part in the discussions were, left to right, Albert Kurt, executive secretary; Harry Gold, chairman of the transportation committee; James F. Loughran, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority; Lawrence MacAvery, chairman of the membership committee; and Robert Teetsel, president of the C. of C. (Freeman Photo)

Has Acquired Industries

Statements that Kingston has acquired no new industry were shown to be false. During the past ten years Kingston has acquired 23 new industries large and small. There are 575 retail places employing between 2,500 and 2,600. Wholesale outlets number 60, employing between 500 and 600. Transportation units number 55 employing between 400 and 500 and miscellaneous industries numbering 37 employ from 125 to 150 people. Service agencies numbering 320 employ from 1,400 to 1,500 persons. Professional and trades agencies numbering 450 employ from 700 to 800 and in government work some 500 to 600 are employed. In educational work there are 350 employed and in religious activities 47 are at work.

Character building agencies give employment to from 15 to 20. "There are as many job opportunities in Kingston as any place," said Kurt and he said the way to get greater employment was to work for expansion of local industries now here as well as to get new industry. Attention was called to the big income which comes to this area from recreational sources including the summer boarding business. This business, while mostly centered outside Kingston, makes for the prosperity of Kingston and he urged closer cooperation of Chamber members with the suburban areas.

Lawrence MacAvery for the membership committee reported 411 members paid up to date and 18 additional members pledged, making a total membership of 429. He asked that additional members be secured during the year to bring the membership up to 500 so that the maximum work could be carried out by the Chamber of Commerce.

'False Priests' Trained

Vatican City, Nov. 3 (AP)—False priests are being trained by the Cominform to spread confusion among Catholics in Russia and her satellites, Vatican sources said today. These sources said that seminary students—now numbering about 500—are being given intensive courses in Latin, philosophy, theology and Marxist doctrine.

The seminary for Poland, these sources said, is at Lwów (Lemberg). The objective for which these priests are being trained, Vatican sources said, is to provoke confusion among Catholic clergy and lay people and to advance national communist churches. One of the earliest magazine articles describing "how to build" a television receiver bears the date of July, 1929.

Dogs Are Give Away
New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Peter J. Locascio's concern for his two expensive dogs has landed him behind bars, accused as a klugger of the American traffic in narcotics.

He was called into Queens Felony Court today on state charges of illegal possession of an estimated $1,000,000 worth of dope. Federal and police agents raided Locascio's lavish Queens home yesterday.

They lay in wait until they saw him leave the house to walk his two handsome Boxer dogs. "I wouldn't have been home this afternoon if I didn't have to take these dogs out for an airing," he told police. Locascio was termed by City Detective Emanuel Schein "the biggest distributor of narcotics in the country."

Snow Flurries Forecast
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—The first general snow flurries of the season were forecast for New York state today. The Weather Bureau predicted that showers, which began last night in Buffalo, would change to snow flurries as the temperature dropped. The showers, with the snow flurries following along, were due to move eastward during the day.

Railroaded Almost Half Century

57 Persons Are Dead

Manila, Nov. 3 (AP)—The number of dead in the Philippines worst typhoon in a dozen years mounted to 57 tonight. Delayed reports from authorities of eastern Negros Island said 31 additional storm victims had been counted. Previously 26 had been reported killed on the islands of Cebu and Negros. Additional storm damage was reported from the islands of Leyte and Mindanao.

Theft Is Reported

Aaron Bahl of Spring street reported to the police at 12:46 a. m. today that the keys of his truck, a gas cap and probably some gas, were taken from the vehicle as it was parked near Cy's Diner, Broadway and East Chester street last night.

Holcomb Says Amendment Vital

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, local chairman of the State Citizens Committee of the New York City Hospital Bond Issue, said today New York and state leaders of the tuberculosis and health associations have informed the committee that passage of Amendment No. 7 represents a key factor in the campaign to reverse the rising incidence of tuberculosis in New York city. The amendment, which would enable New York city to raise $150,000,000 for hospital construction and rehabilitation, will be voted on at the election, November 8.

The report, made by directors of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Greater New York and the State Tuberculosis and Public Health Committee of the State Charities Aid Association, noted "there are almost 20,000 known cases of tuberculosis in New York city and an equal or greater number of unknown cases. Whether we like it or not, this means thousands of individuals with tuberculosis are walking our streets, using public transportation, working in offices and factories, and attending public gatherings. These people present an ever increasing danger to others. "If New York city is to stop the incidence of this disease it is necessary to provide additional hospitalization. Lives and money will be saved and suffering alleviated if the city has adequate facilities for furnishing immediate hospitalization for individuals in the early stages of tuberculosis when the possibility of a rapid recovery is high."

Dr. Holcomb said the local committee is part of a state-wide organization of leading health, welfare and medical groups supporting Amendment No. 7. Dr. Holcomb emphasized that the cost of the proposed hospital rehabilitation program would be borne by New York city alone.

To Direct Legion Ball BandsSAL CASTIGLIONE

The orchestras of Sal Castiglione and Don Pierson will play at the annual Victory Ball sponsored by the American Legion Kingston Post, 150, Thursday night, November 10, in the municipal auditorium.

Castiglione will direct his band of 10 musicians for the concert and entertainment. A feature will be his arrangement of Schubert's Serenade for brass quartet to be played by Albert Rossi Myron Rossi, trumpets, Harry Castiglione and William Steuding, trombones Al and Myron Rossi also will play a trumpet duet.

Castiglione has been prominent in local music circles for years, having played and directed since before World War I. During the first war, he was a musician in the 34th Infantry Band, one of Uncle Sam's crack outfits. He conducts the Kingston Concert Band during the series of summer park programs and is supervisor of music in the Ellenville schools. He directed the Broadway Theatre orchestra for vaudeville last winter.

Members of his band include Michael Marchuk, tenor saxophone; George Cosenza, Louis Arace, alto saxophone; Irving Rose, string bass, Harry Maisenhelder, piano and Donald Pierson, drums.

For Dancing
Pierson's 12-piece band will play for dancing following the entertainment. Pierson is a native of Kingston and is a graduate of Kingston schools. He was active in the high school orchestra, band and glee club and studied drums with local teachers and, New York instructors. He has worked with most local orchestras at one time or another in Kingston hotels, clubs and theatres.

He served in the army for three years and played with the famous Flying Boots Orchestra of the Airborne Command in Europe's largest cities and play areas. This marks the second consecutive year he will play for the American Legion Ball. He has received offers from some of the leading name bands in the country. Daily offers were turned down by army service and more recent offers rejected because of confirmed belief that Kingston is the place in the world to stay put. Pierson devoted his time to teaching and playing for organizational affairs in the eastern section of the state.

His orchestra personnel includes Michael J. Marchuk, George Cosenza, Ole Christensen, Howard Ives, saxophones, Peter Ferraro, Charles Lee, Frank Ferraro, J. J. Trumpets, Raymond Carroll, William D. Steuding, trombones, Louis Sweeney, piano, and Donald DePuy, bass.

India's Princes Still Paid

New Delhi (AP)—The crownless princelings of India numbering about 600 together draw from the Indian exchequer an annual privy purse of $9,600,000. States Minister Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel appealed to the Constituent Assembly recently to honor the pledges given to the princes for the bloodless revolution achieved by the integration of their states within two years of freedom. Patel said that before the integration the princes had been drawing from their respective states' treasuries an aggregate amount of $40,200,000. The

Persimmon Menace

Washington (AP)—The Citizens Association of Anacostia, a section in southeastern Washington, is petitioning the District of Columbia government to do something about fruit falling from persimmon trees planted along three streets. "Have you ever stepped on one?" asked Mrs. Cattle Smith, first vice president.

O'Neill Speaks On Housing

Francis J. O'Neill, Democratic candidate for mayor, in an address Wednesday spoke on the housing question. "In part he said:

"In this connection, it is interesting to note that several nights ago, a woman spoke on behalf of the mayor. She stated that over 50% of all the voters of this city are women. Certainly that large proportion of women voters should be represented on our city boards.

"If elected I will appoint women as well as men to our city boards. It has always seemed extremely odd to me to hear a certain few members of the Republican party accuse Democrats of being opposed to housing. Housing, as well as every other forward-looking social program, has been almost universally initiated by the Democratic party. And so, it is by some extremely peculiar sort of reasoning that the opposition party in this city tries to show that Democrats, and the Democratic party, is opposed, as they so broadly state it, to housing. Usually the complaint is that the Democrats are too liberal in favoring all those concepts, which tend toward the general welfare of the people.

"There is no question in my mind but that every right thinking citizen, no matter what are his political beliefs, wants every one of his fellow citizens to have adequate housing facilities for himself and his family—a clean, warm, decent place in which his family can be reared under good conditions. It is my personal and sincere conviction that despite the fact that so many persons expressed themselves privately or publicly as bitter opponents of the administration's housing plan for the 12th ward, those same people had and still have a fundamentally earnest desire that their fellow citizens might better the conditions under which they live. I believe, further, that the people of this city will not permit the desires of one man, or any small group of men, to override the will of a majority of the people. People are not necessarily opposed to housing as such, merely because they honestly believe, rightly or wrongly, that a particular plan that was presented, and which they are told they must accept, was not a good plan.

"Surely those persons who honestly expressed their own opinions, should not be condemned. Let me now set the record straight. I have never been opposed, I am not now opposed, and I shall never be opposed to proper, adequate sufficient housing for human beings that need, but do not have it. But I am opposed, and shall always be opposed to any plan which calls for the forcible uprooting of certain persons in our city and the compulsory transplanting of them into another segment of our community, against the will of the people, as manifested both by the vote of their duly elected public officials, and by their own publicly and privately expressed sentiments.

U.S. May Intervene

U.M.W. talks with northern and western operators ended without result last month. The southern operators' president, Joseph E. Moody, said at Bluefield, W. Va., that to continue their talks after five months of getting nowhere would do no good.

There are almost a million men on strike in the coal and steel stoppages. The steel strike has been going on since Oct. 1. C.I.O. President Philip Murray, directing the steel strike, has won a pension-insurance settlement with the Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second largest producer. While presiding over the annual C.I.O. convention at Cleveland, Murray is trying to get other steel firms to take the Bethlehem terms.

Murray's men have been giving out optimistic statements that other steelworkers were on the verge of following Bethlehem, but up to today no others had come to terms.

Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation chief, planned to go to New York to address a meeting of the Society for the Advancement of also planning to talk in New York

Management. Ching was reported as official of the U. S. Steel Corp., No. 1 steel producer. So far there has been no evidence that Murray's Steelworker's Union and U. S. Steel's representatives have discussed the Bethlehem peace plan, or tried to adopt it to U. S. Steel. Evidently Ching wanted to try to start things moving in that direction.

Uncle Sam Might

to the average support price on the farm. This figure is a weekly average of all barrows and gilts sold at those markets. This weekly average is called a "guide" price. If the actual selling price is below the "guide" price, it is presumed the price the farmer is getting at the farm is below the support level. And, therefore, the Agriculture Department must buy pork.

The guide price this week is $16.25. Actual average price at Chicago yesterday was about $16.80—or only 55 cents above the guide price.

Polio Victim Sued
St. Louis, Nov. 3 (AP)—A masseuse has filed a $109,200 suit against Marjorie Lawrence, former Metropolitan Opera singer, Miss Lawrence, who suffered an attack of infantile paralysis in 1941, was given the summons as she sat in a wheel chair in Union Station yesterday. Mrs. Frances Bunn of Boston, Ark., who filed the suit, said the singer had entered into an oral contract to repay her with public acknowledgment for successful treatments. The petition said Miss Lawrence had agreed to purchase $30,000 worth of space in a national magazine to publicize her treatments and had agreed to include Mrs. Bunn in a contemplated movie and book. Mrs. Bunn said she had received $942 for treating Miss Lawrence from April, 1947, to January, 1949. The soprano and her husband, Dr. Thomas M. King, were en route to New York when the papers were served.

corporation preferred stocks—Eastman Kodak, National Biscuit, International Harvester, American Radiator, Lorillard Tobacco, General Motors, du Pont are selling at high prices, reflecting these cheap money conditions. It in 1950-51 the federal budget should be substantially balanced and a surplus were available to pay government debt money rates might harden and these preferred stocks would fall in price. Despite their high quality they carry considerable risk. And, remember, this is only a brief analysis of one type of risk. As I have said, risk is a component element in stocks. Nobody in these days can be sure of the accuracy of his measurement of risk. Why is this so?

Meeting Is Postponed
The regular meeting of Wiltwyck Hose Company, which was scheduled to be held tonight, has been postponed until Thursday, November 10.

The first recorded use of form-bent plywood was in the manufacture of railroad station seats in New York city in 1870.

Producer to Marry
Rome, Nov. 3 (AP)—David Montgomery Pelham, youthful movie producer and one of the original theatrical "Dead End Kids," said today he would be wed soon to Miss Sharon Hurley, 25, a former New York model. Pelham, 29, is the son of Mrs. Thomas Pelham Christmas of Windermer, Alton, Mass. His father, who died several years ago, was one of the founders of the Gillette Safety Razor Company. The former model was divorced from Owen Jones in 1945. Pelham said the marriage would be in Rome, probably before the son of Mrs. Thomas Pelham Christmas.

With cranberries on the list of plentiful foods for November, let's seek new recipes:

Cranberry Parfait

One quart vanilla ice cream, 1 can whole cranberry sauce. Alternate scoops of vanilla ice cream and spoonfuls of whole cranberry sauce just as it comes from the can. Top with whipped cream, if desired. Serve with Swedish jelly cookies.

Swedish Jelly Cookies

(Makes 16 to 18 cookies)

One-half cup butter of other table fat, ¼ cup sugar, 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 egg white, unbeaten, ¼ cup finely chopped nuts, canned jellied cranberry sauce cubes.

Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Beat until light and fluffy. Add egg yolk, mix thoroughly and blend in flour. Form into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Dip in egg white, then in nuts. Place on greased cookie sheet and press flat with bottom of glass. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 5 minutes. Remove from oven and press center down and bake 15 minutes longer. Cool and fill-center with cubes cut

by Harry C. France

All stocks are speculative. Risk—the principal symbol of speculation—is a congenital element in equities. Risk assumes a hundred different forms, ranging from situations where chance taking is slight to where it is overpowering. Managers of capital who are most competent are students of risk. They attempt carefully to select the degree of risk a stock purchaser can afford to carry. And after a purchase has been made they follow through persistently with a study of the status of the risk, for by so doing they can better decide when buying or selling action should be taken. From month to month letters come to my office asking about stock that are not speculative. As I have said above, there aren't any such animals. Yet, because today the best field for investors' desiring income and appreciation (or growth) is the stock field, an understanding of risk is indispensable in successful investing. Let me illustrate:

Laws Affect All Classes
Well, first, one never knows from day to day (when Congress is in session) what the government will do. Congress has a hand on the throttle of economic America. Legislation vitally affecting every segment of our life is brought up from year to year. Recently, for example, Congress authorized $740 million more for the air force than the joint chiefs of staff and the secretary of defense asked. And on the day that was voted aviation stocks had a sharp run up. Taxes and spending and deficit financing leave the national economy in a state of unbalance. Who can chart risk accurately under such conditions? Second, who knows from day to day what will happen to corporations? Strikes are always a possibility. Orders canceling can come like a thief in the night. Price erosion may set in. A score of favorable or unfavorable things can move in and take over. Yes, economic America is beset by risk. And it always will be. Investment anywhere demands risk taking. So those people who don't want to assume risks had better leave their money in a good savings bank with a large surplus and be satisfied with low interest.

Best Preferred Stock
Eastman Kodak preferred is probably the best preferred stock in America. It pays $6 a share a year and it sells for around $190 a share. Five shares would cost a little less than a thousand dollars and would pay $300 a year. As anyone can see, this stock is selling away up in the skies. Its quality is high; it earns its dividend 40 times over every year. The risk in the stock is really in its dividend or in its earnings. The risk is in the price of the shares.

And this risk comes out of Washington. Uncle Sam is borrowing $256 billion at very low rates of interest. In fact, he sets the basic interest rate of the country so great are his borrowings and so powerful are his influences over money.

The result is many leading

Dulles Says He Will Vote for Vital Bills

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Sen. John Foster Dulles says former Governor Herbert H. Lehman is a "hit-and-run campaigner" because he refuses to debate him in their fight for a U. S. Senate seat.

Dulles accused by Lehman of injecting bigotry into the campaign said last night that Lehman "makes the charge behind a man's back, and then refuses to meet him face to face."

The senator has challenged Lehman several times to debate the various campaign issues.

Dulles, Republican nominee for the Nov. 8 election, campaigned over the radio and at New York City rallies last night against his Democratic and Liberal party opponent.

Dulles promised that if he is returned to the Senate he will "work and vote for" anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and fair employment practices legislation.

He said, "I had hoped for a chance to do that in the last session but the Democrats denied me that chance."

Dulles said Lehman did nothing about civil rights when he was governor, but left the problem to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and a Republican Legislature to handle.

"The people of the whole nation," Dulles declared, "had to wait for New York to blaze the way by enacting an anti-discrimination in employment law. And they had to wait until there was a Republican state administration to get that. They are still waiting on the Washington administration."

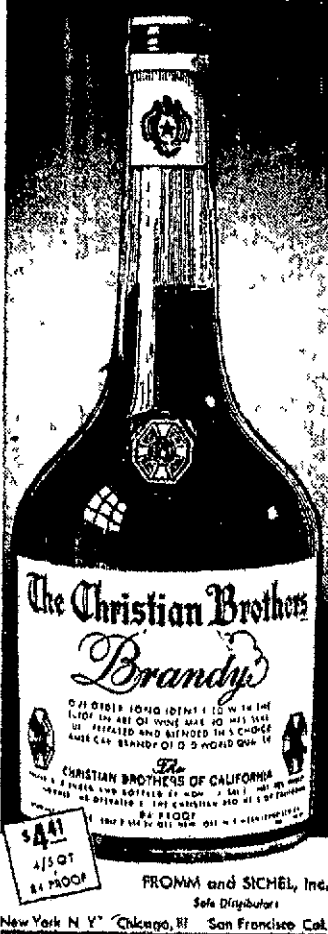

Dulles recalled that in past campaigns Lehman had accepted support of the American Labor party, which Dulles contends was Communist-dominated then and still is.

Will Award Bonuses
Paris, Nov. 3 (AP)—The French cabinet decided today to award monthly living cost bonuses up to 3,000 francs ($8.50) to low paid workers. The first bonuses probably will be distributed November 15. French non-Communist labor unions are asking more than that, but wage-demand strikes so far have been small and sporadic. The bonus is aimed at bringing all workers up to a minimum 15,000-franc monthly wage. The government has told the unions that wages soon will be uniform and they can then negotiate for increases with management.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

A husband says: "My wife wants to have wild duck carved in the kitchen and I think she's wrong. I think it should be carved at the table. I used to do all the carving in this house, and I'm really pretty good at it, but I didn't mind losing the job when we got a maid who could do it in the kitchen. But I draw the line at wild duck and would go so far as to say that even in very stylish houses it is considered correct to carve on the dining table."

You are right! In no matter how formal a house it would prove that the host is unable to carve should the ducks not be placed in front of him to be carved—particularly this is true if he shot them.

Broken Engagement.
Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me if your edict that an engagement ring belongs to the man and should be returned to him if the engagement is broken, hold in my case? He cancelled our engagement by letter and two weeks later was married to someone else. I still have the ring and we are miles apart and I had no inkling of his change of mind before the letter just mentioned.

Answer: I must say in this particular situation you might perhaps keep the ring if it gives you any satisfaction to do so. Ordinarily, however, this would be very wrong.

Hospitality to Guests.
Dear Mrs. Post: What in the way of hospitality can the relatives expect when they go between 100 and 200 miles to a wedding? They are going by train, have no access to a car, and yet the reception is taking place some miles from the church. I imagine it is at a country club. The wedding is at 4:30 and the reception after that.

Answer: Under the circumstances you describe, the family of the bride will be expected to have you and other guests meet at the station, taken to the church, from the church to the reception and from the reception back to the station. However, you will be wise to write a note asking about definite information as to what preparations will be made for you, or how you are to make others yourself.

Answering Telephone
Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper way for a maid to answer the telephone?
Answer: "Mr. Jones's house" or "apartment," as the case may be. The word "residence" is very bad form.
Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 501, "Weddings," describes wedding invitations, announcements, the bride's clothes, who pays the expense and many other details. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 29, N. Y. Written for NEA Service
By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

This is the fourth of a series of articles taken from Fred L. Karpin's new edition of the Point-Count System of Bidding in Contract Bridge.

In today's article Mr. Karpin continues his explanation of his ace and king showing responses to an opening two-bid in a suit. While this chapter has nothing to do with the point-count system of bidding, nevertheless it is worth your while to become thoroughly familiar with the convention, as a greater part of it has been used by many of the country's good players. It will be a rare occasion when you hold an ace and two kings opposite partner's opening two-bid. When you do you can tell him exactly what you have thereby eliminating the guess in the hand. With today's holding, you first show the ace by bidding that suit, and on your rebid you jump to four no trump.

North's response of two spades showed the ace of spades. It denied any other ace. With two aces the first response would have been four no trump. North's second bid of four no trump showed two kings, which now permitted South to contract for a small slam.

If you should happen to have an ace and king in one suit, and the king of another suit, jump in the ace-king suit first, then rebid four no trump (which is a force to slam). For example:

Opener	Responder
♠ A 5	♠ Q 8 7 6 3
♠ A 8	♠ K 8 2
♠ Q 6	♠ A K 7 4
♠ A K Q J 8 6 4	♠ 3

Bidding:

2 ♦ (b)
4 ♠ or 7 N.T. (d)
(a) Showing the AK of diamonds.
(b) Small slam now assured—looking for a grand slam.
(c) Another king.
(d) The grand slam—13 tricks can be counted.

Warmer Weather Is Heading East

(By The Associated Press)
It was chilly over most of the midwest today but warmer weather was on the way from the western states.

Below freezing temperatures extended from the eastern Dakotas to as far south as northern Arkansas. The coldest spots were Wisconsin, southeastern Minnesota and central Iowa. The mercury was as low as 15 above in some areas.

There were a few cool spots in the New England states but temperatures generally were around normal levels over most of the eastern states. The cool air over the midwest was headed for the Atlantic seaboard.
Warmer weather spread over the Rocky Mountain and western plains regions and was expected to move across the midwest by tomorrow. The mercury was on the sunny side in parts of California. At Los Angeles it hit a high of 93 yesterday. In contrast, the high during the day at International Falls, Minn., and Land O'Lakes, Wis., was 27.

There were only a few wet spots today. Light rain or snow flurries were reported in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and eastern Kentucky.

Work Is Started
London, Nov. 3 (AP)—North Atlantic Pact powers have started work on an integrated plan for meeting arms requirements of the 12 allies. This was announced last night by the British Defense Ministry at the conclusion of the initial two-day meeting here of the alliance's arms supply board. Every sign of the North Atlantic Pact except soldierless Iceland was represented at the meeting.

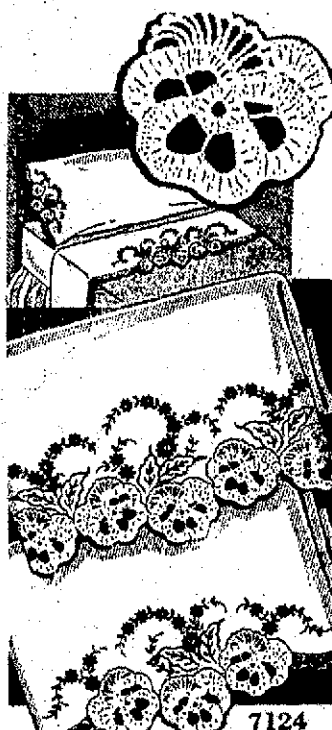

Dewey Asks Residents Of State Eat Apples

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—Governor Dewey urges New York state residents to eat more apples to help relieve what he calls a "serious surplus."

The governor made the appeal yesterday in a proclamation designating November "Apple Month" in the state. He asked New Yorkers to help themselves by helping out the apple growers.

The governor noted that New York, the second ranking state in apple production, would supply about one-seventh of the nation's crop this year.

Island Dock, Inc., Has Good Safety Record

Island Dock, Inc., local building materials supplier and producer of ready mixed concrete, has been informed by the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association that the company was ranked 18th out of 104 companies reporting in the 1949 Safety Contest with a score of no injuries to personnel, no injuries to non-employees and only two property damage accidents. Joseph Stout, sales manager, states that this is a gain over last year when the company's similar operations ranked 37th out of 91 companies reporting. He also announced that steps have been taken in the hope of improving the ranking. In the 1950 Safety Contest which started July 1, 1949, Mrs. Leslie Propper, 567 Albany avenue, reported to the police at 7 p. m. yesterday that her son, Gerald, 8, was bitten on the right arm by a dog at Albany and Ten-Brook avenues. He was treated by a doctor.

400 Guests Are Routed
Boston, Nov. 3 (AP)—A suspicious fire routed 400 scantily-clad guests at the Hotel Brunswick early today. The flames were quickly extinguished with damaged listed at $100. A 37-year-old mystery writer, with a police record as an arsonist, was seized by police for questioning. He was staying at the hotel. The flames were confined to a couch in the hallway as the hotel sprinkler system checked them from spreading until firemen arrived.

PURE WHITE KIRKMAN FLAKES

IT DOESN'T PAY TO WORRY
when a long-distance call costs so little Doesn't it make you mad when some well-meaning but not too bright person tells you to "Stop worrying"? You can't help worrying—not when your mind keeps repeating, "Is mother getting better?" or "Did Mary arrive safely?" or "Did Joe get his money okay?"
A more helpful suggestion is, "Telephone and find out."
It usually takes only a minute to put through a long-distance call that will answer all your questions.
Telephoning across the miles costs so little. It just doesn't pay to worry when a quick, easy call can put your mind at ease.

How to telephone out-of-town at bargain rates:
First, use the fast, low-cost Station-to-Station service—which means you will talk to anyone who answers the number you call. If you don't know an out-of-town number, give the operator the name and address. She'll be glad to complete the call and give you the number for future reference.
Secondly, take advantage of the low night and Sunday rates, which are generally in effect from 8 p. m. to 4:30 a. m. weekdays and all day Sunday.
There are typical Station-to-Station night and Sunday rates from Kingston
The above rates are for an initial three-minute period, exclusive of Federal tax.

Stengel Is Named Manager Of Year By Sports Scribes

Gets 101 of 116 Ballots Cast

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Casey Stengel, who hit the jackpot in his first year with the New York Yankees after nine unsuccessful seasons as National League pilot, is the major league's "Manager of the Year."

The grizzled veteran, who overcame a list of obstacles to lead the Yankees to an American League pennant and a world championship last season, was the overwhelming choice of the baseball writing fraternity which voted in the Associated Press poll.

Stengel grabbed 101 of the 116 votes cast. Only four other pilots received recognition with Detroit's Red Killebrew and Philadelphia Phillies' Ed Sawyer tied for a poor second at six votes apiece. Joe McCarthy, Boston Red Sox skipper, who was named out for the pennant two straight years on the final day, received two votes. Jack Onslow, freshman pilot of the Chicago White Sox, got the remaining vote.

Did Tremendous Job
Stengel received the accolade for his tremendous job with a club that didn't figure to win in the first place, and was crippled by a record number of injuries and illnesses from the start of the season right down to the final day. In addition, he had to live down the reputation as a clown and court jester.

He came to the Yankees as a stranger after five years in the minors. Even before the club concluded its spring training program in Florida, he was accepted by his players as a sound tactician, a keen student of the game and a smart handler of men.

It was Stengel's proud boast that he didn't levy a single fine on any of his players. Nor was there a single squabble between player and manager all year.

"Never have I seen a club work together as this one did," he proudly said at the club's victory dinner after the final World Series game. "Maybe we weren't the greatest team in history, but the Yankees of '49 were the tightest, most spirited team I ever saw in my 40 years in the game."

It is not too far-fetched to credit Casey with infusing some of the fight, hustle and spirit that enabled the Yankees to surmount all barriers and defeat a favored Red Sox team in the closing days of one of the most torrid seasons in American League history.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Gaston Amara, 122, Tunis, outpointed Leo Holmes, 123, Cleveland, 10.

Binghamton, N. Y.—Willie Patterson, 151, New York, stopped Joe Cardinal, 148, Binghamton, 5.

Plans New Plea
New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Turned down once more in his efforts to race horses in New York, Jule Fink said today he planned to carry the case to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court.

The Cincinnati horseman's latest defeat came from a joint board of the New York State Racing Commission and the Jockey Club. The board, in a prepared statement released yesterday, said that because of Fink's "undoubted close business and personal relation with bookmakers," it had been decided to uphold the action of the Jockey Club in denying Fink a license for the 1949 season.

Plans to organize the 1949-50 City Recreation Basketball League will be formulated tonight during a meeting at the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway, at 7 o'clock, Harry Edson announced this morning.

Mexicans Please Horse Show Fans
New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—The all-military jumping team at the National Horse show, which went into its third session today, was completely expected but it still has the audience gasping.

When Olympic champions—and one of the world's greatest horsemen—until someone proves otherwise—Col. Humberto Mariles does not win, his students take over. Of the three military contests held so far, the count shows one for Col. Mariles and two for Capt. Ruben Uriza, who won the Dakota trophy at last night's event in Madison Square Garden.

It makes no difference to me who the individual winner is," said Col. Mariles. "The important thing is the competition. It does many things for young officers. I see that every day at our cavalry school where I am a director."

Col. Mariles said he had about decided against competing here when some friends persuaded him to get astride Aresko, his mount which carried him to the Olympic championship.

The Mexicans will shoot for two more military trophies today, the International Low Score Challenge trophy and the Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho trophy, which they captured last year.

See Horse 'Spongers'
Salem, N. H., Nov. 3 (AP)—Amateurs with larceny in their hearts and a knowledge of the physical geography of Rockingham Park were sought today in connection with the "sponging" of five horses in the seventh race here Oct. 24.

Most of these interested in seizing the prize, and prosecuting the spongers, who pushed small sponges into the thoroughbred's noses, are convinced that no big betting coup was intended as wagering on the

Snead Takes Lead Over Johnny Bulla In North-South Golf

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—Folks around this golf-wise village pride themselves on their knowledge of the game. They were never more right than yesterday.

When Sammy Snead teed off for the first round of the North and South Open tournament most of the first tee standees took off after the slugger from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

They knew they'd see something worth following. They were rewarded for their 6352-yard tramp around the No. 2 country club course. The slammer banged out a four under par 68 to grab a one-stroke lead over Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh and Ted Kroll of Philmont, Pa.

Snead, P.G.A. king, leading money winner of the year and runner up last year to Tony Penna, was low man of a field of 111 in this 47th renewal of the $7,500 test which winds up with 36 holes tomorrow.

The rugged course stubbornly resisted the efforts of a crack collection of the game's star amateurs and professionals.

Only 11 were able to master par and six others equaled standard figures.

Snead's 33-35 was built around three straight birdies starting at No. 3 and three more on the back nine. On the way home he had five on 11 and 12 to lose a stroke to par on each.

Very much in the picture, only two strokes off the pace with two under 70s were professionals Pete Cooper of Ponte Vedra, Fla., Walter Romann of Baltimore and Gene Dahlbender of Mamaronock, N. Y.

The oldsters also had their fling. The five-man 71 group included patriarchs Gene Sarazen and Denny Shute. They were joined by National Open Champion Cary Middlecott and Johnny Palmer, runner up to Snead in this year's P.G.A. tournament, and the low amateur, Skeet Riegel, former national amateur king.

Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y., slid from 68 on Monday to 73.

Two Players Jailed After Hockey Melee
Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—Two Montreal Canadiens hockey players were jailed last night following a brawl with a group of fans during the Canadiens' National Hockey League game with the Chicago Blackhawks at the Chicago Stadium.

One spectator suffered a scalp wound, which required several stitches. Five other fans, struck glancing blows by a stick-swinging player, were not injured.

The two players, Kenny Reardon and Leo Gravelle, were charged with assault with a deadly weapon. They were released on $200 bonds signed by William J. Tobin, president of the Blackhawks, pending a hearing in police court Nov. 14.

The fighting between the Montreal players and fans broke out midway in the second period of the game. The Blackhawks beat the Canadiens, 4 to 1, for their third straight victory.

Police Detective Harold Marsick said one fan, George Grish, 28, a steel plant worker, claimed Reardon hit him over the head with his hockey stick as he charged over the edge of the stand in the second row.

Marsick said Reardon told him Grish grabbed him by the throat and Gravelle started swinging at five men sitting with Grish. They were hit on the arms and shoulders, Marsick said, and were not injured.

Billy Reay, the Canadiens' center, also was taken to the police station, but no charges were filed against him. Stadium spectators said Reay also swung a stick over the inside barrier, but apparently struck no one. Reay drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty.

Reardon and Grish shook hands in the stadium dressing room after the game. Grish said: "I'm not mad at anybody." However, friends of Grish placed charges against Reardon and Gravelle.

At Montreal last night, President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said he had "no comment." He made until he received a report from Referee Bill Chadwick on the incident.

Reay was not abnormal. It was pointed out, however, that the seventh race plays part in the makeup of the figures used in the number pool in this area.

Hardy-Arthur Fight Tops Tonight's Card

Boxing is back in the municipal auditorium tonight for the second week in a row with a stand-out card, headlined by the Jim Hardy vs. Gus Arthur bout. Tonight's fisty bill, originally slated for next Thursday, was moved up in deference to the American Legion Victory Ball scheduled for Nov. 10.

Hardy, the Canaan, N. Y., belter who is always a tremendous crowd pleaser, is matched with a stout middleweight in the person of Arthur who hails from the Pat Rorty stable in Pennsylvania. Three other leading Pennsies also will box.

The other invading amateur aces from Pennsylvania who will appear here tonight include Bob Provizzi, the welterweight artist, who is another Kingston favorite; Joey Hughes, light heavyweight; and Carl Rominelli, lightweight ace.

Starting time of the first bout is 9 p. m.

The complete card follows:

Five Rounders
Jim Hardy, Canaan, N. Y., vs. Gus Arthur, Pennsylvania.
Bob Provizzi, Pennsylvania, vs. Willie Jones, Catskill.
Harry Smith, Berkshire School, vs. Carl Rominelli, Pennsylvania lightweight.

Bobby Hobbs, ace Albany lightweight, vs. Joey Hughes, Pennsylvania slugger.

Three Rounders
Floyd Benjamin, Kingston middleweight, vs. Leo Pitts, Catskill.

Vince Colucci, Hudson, vs. Lou Murray, Canaan.
Sonny Roycroft, Poughkeepsie, vs. Billy Wilson, Berkshire School of Canaan.

Bagatelles:
The vagaries of football fortunes (see Fordham) are such that a Poughkeepsie High School eleven drubbed by Kingston High, 35-0, in 1949 is a solid two touchdown favorite over the Maroon in their schoolboy epic Saturday on pebble-scarred Memorial Field in the Bridge City.

Corpulent Sam Kallach has emerged from a vale of tears with one of the top scholastic outfits, maybe the best, in the mid-Hudson district. The truculent mentor has his Blues "up" for this and they can shoot the works. Kingston must look past Poughkeepsie to Middletown and Newburgh. At the moment it seems like a large family size order.

Floresam and Jetsam:
Primo Carnara at 49 is remarkably agile, a great crowd pleaser and in superb condition. He looks fit enough to travel four rounds with Joe Louis in the Hammer's current Bum-of-the-week exhibition tour. . . . A report from the coast has Maxie Baer, ex-heavyweight champion who dethroned Carnara, turning to the grunt and grunt art. What a delightful fantasy would be a Carnara-Baer wrestling duel. . . . Referee Willie Glickman, who is almost a ringster for comedian Joe E. Lewis, added color and zest to the Carnara show. He is by far the best of the straight men to appear on the local shows. . . . Menu to Bill Johnston: If you'll ship Ladislav Talma, the terrible Pole, back to his homeland, we'll furnish a giant sardine can for packing him away. And maybe the savdest, too.

Station WKNY will broadcast the Poughkeepsie-Kingston High School football game on Saturday at 1:45 p. m.

Of Men and Mice:
A casual observer might think this season is a throw back to the 1930's. . . . It's like old times to see Pittsburgh, Fordham and Tennessee rolling up victories, and girls in the stands with short hair. . . . When Tennessee beat North Carolina and Pittsburgh edged Pennsylvania, it proved that Justice doesn't always triumph and the Penn isn't always mightier. . . . Mike Rienzo, all-time K.H.S. fullback great, has been switched to quarterback at St. Lawrence University. . . . Mike's play has been impressive according to the campus rag and he piloted the Larries Frosh to a 15-14 victory over Clarkson in his signal-calling debut. . . . Denver of the Western Association has recalled Catcher Carroll Anstett from the Kingston Colonials. . . . Knobby Rosa, 1947 Kingston Dodgey speedster, recently married in Miami, Fla. . . . One of those Sundays, maybe three or four years from now, Harvey "Pat" Johnson of the New York Football Yankees is going to miss a kick for point after touchdown; and spoil a most promising record. . . . At the moment the former William & Mary star has booted 94 one-pointers in a row. . . . This is 22 better than the former professional record hung up by Jack "Automatic" Manders with the Chicago Bears away back in 1933-37.

George Flemings, Sr. and Jr., were inspired to compose the following ode to Emerson Hayes, the famous hurdler, after the latter's unhappy moments last Sunday at the official pleasant season opening at the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club:

"He thrashed the brush; he tramped the wood,
Using all the skill he could.
But before his eyes, not a bird did rise,
Oh, well! He got his exercise!"

Things we'd rather not hear about: Marty Sarno of Schenectady, former world welterweight champion, and one-time babyface idol of Kingston amateur boxing crowds, has started training for a second comeback. . . . Sergeant James Cullum of the K.P.D. bugged a pleasant on opening day with a new technique that he will reveal only to intimates. Yes, a gun was involved.

LINEMAN OF WEEK

Blaine Earon (above), Duke's fine defensive end, has been named Associated Press Lineman of the Week. Earon, consistently one of the Southern Conference's top defensive performers, made tackles Saturday to account for 67 of the 78 yards Georgia Tech lost to Duke. He made the tackle on 15 of Tech's 49 plays, and twice his tackles were so hard the ball was fumbled. (AP Wirephoto)

Duke Soph Named Lineman of Week

Durham, N. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—Blaine Earon, Duke's sophomore end who wasn't even a regular member of the team at the beginning of the season, is this week's lineman of the week.

The 20-year-old lad from Altoona, Pa., won first honors in the weekly Associated Press roll for his solid play against Georgia Tech.

"I can sure thank the other boys for that honor," he said. "Using that eight-man line against Tech, they made it easy for me to look good."

His spectacular defensive play helped Duke come from behind in the second half to beat Tech, 37-14. It was the third straight game that he stood out in Duke's defensive line.

Earon, a 193-pounder, is the chatter-box of the squad. His high-pitched voice can be heard all over the field, and he never lets up. His baby face and crew haircut make him look younger than 20 years. He is majoring in history, and wants to coach football after graduation.

Earon is one of the few sophomores to gain the award in the six years since the lineman of the week recognition was started.

Joe Hastings took over the driver's seat in the Junior Major wheel at "The Palace" Wednesday night with a 555 triple, edging out F. Cappellino who hit 530. Hastings put together games of 203-181-171 for his 555 while Cappellino opened fast with a naut 231 and followed with counts of 179 and 140.

Also in the upper bracket were Dick Bertie who fired 187-523, C. Castello 209-523, Jim Daniels 207-527, Ed Marks 517, J. McGrane 504, George Shufeldt 212-512, L. Stauble 519, B. Allen 202-525, K. Kuhar 213-512, and Chus Backman 545.

Just continued the coveted circle were E. Czerninski with 459, Jack Haber 485, P. Bruck 490, E. Terwilliger 497.

Throwing three fine games of 101-211-189 sent J. Struble of Mohr's Market into the top position in the early Rooker League circuit this week. Completed scores of this league will not be published due to the late arrival of scores.

W. Holden crashed 207-535, Andy Bruckowski 201-563, F. Grimaldi 191-495, Joe Heidcamp 192-488, L. Every 213-501, and A. Organtini 529.

A 168-189-177 blast gave Nick Bruck top honors in the Catholic League action at the Bowldome Wednesday night.

Also of note were Pete Nagy with 178-527, Ed Norton 204-520, Joe Watzka 182-505, A. Berardi 497, Fred Favarro 167-492, Andy Gray 209-518, Joe Maher 195-532.

The Women's Booster League received a tremendous shot in the arm last night when L. Jordan showed how it was done in easy fashion by firing a sizzling 194 singleton in her final game. The No. 2 kieglerette on the Howard Refrigerator squad wound up with a 412 triple, the lone 400 in the circuit after other games were 111 and 107.

V. Farrell rolled 157-398, Joan Moore 345, M. Short 362, J. Scully 154-361, J. Norton 169-389, M. Bertram 174-378.

A blistering 287 opener followed by counts of 184 and 179 carried Novosy Markin to a league-leading 683 triple in last night's Colonial Women's League season at the Bowldom.

Miss Markin's heavy pinning sparked the Suffolk and Scudder trundlers to a gaudy 2636 series on team singles of 947-804-885.

Ben Early, in the runner-up position, fashioned a neat 575 three-timer on games of 196-167-212.

Elsewhere in the Gold Division, Marge Janson rolled 179-508, Charlotte Lapine 178-503, Rita LaRocca 223-512, Rose Schatzel 209-526, Dot Rawding 474, Tess Moss 488, Evelyn Doan 183-484, Mary Bonner 193-486.

Work for Cancer Home to Resume Next Week

Local workers soon will begin their fourth year of making pads and bed-jackets for the Home at Hawthorne, Westchester county, maintained by the Soranus of Relief for Cancerous Poor, nuns of the Dominican Order, originally founded by Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne. Incurable patients are received regardless of race, creed or color. The constant devotion of the nuns prevent them from making pads so for the past three years, the Antion Hospital Guild, under the supervision of Mrs. Vincent A. Corman has been making miscellaneous pads every Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. at the municipal auditorium. Volunteer workers may join the group and are invited to help with the work if only for an hour. An appeal also is being made for clean white material, men's colored or white shirts. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Vincent A. Corman, 124 Albany avenue, telephone 28; or Mrs. Margaret Penhall, 102 Abryn street, telephone 1820. Work will start Wednesday, November 9.

The home is situated in a park and the patients are provided with every comfort. No patient is asked concerning their religion or financial circumstances. Mrs. Penhall pointed out. A generous public is always contributing. Recently the freshmen of Hawthorne presented the home with a television set, a great attraction for the men interested in sports. Some of the patients work in the flower gardens, others have hobbies such as crocheting and embroidering.

S. R. Guggenheim Dies; Active Until Three Weeks Ago

Port Washington, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—Solomon R. Guggenheim, senior member of America's great mining family, died here early today at his Long Island estate, Trillora Court. He was 88.

The multi-millionaire copper king was active in the family business until three weeks ago, when his health suddenly began to fail. His condition worsened early this week and his three daughters were called home.

His wife, Irene, was with him when he died, and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Obre, of Baltimore, also were present. His eldest daughter, Countess Castle Stewart, was reported flying home from England.

Guggenheim was the senior member of the firm of Guggenheim Brothers, and was the last survivor of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who started the family in the mining business in North and South America.

He also was a generous art patron, and had been a collector since his marriage in 1895 to Irene M. Rothschild, a young art follower.

In 1937 he formed the Solomon R. Guggenheim Foundation to encourage and popularize art, especially in its modern form of non-objective painting. His own personal collection ranged from American landscapes to the Barbizon school and primitives.

As head of the family firm, Guggenheim was a director of a number of metals corporations, including Kennecott Copper, Braden Copper, Pacific Tin, and the Nevada Northern Railway Co. He also was one of the major stockholders in the huge Anaconda Copper Mining Co.

Guggenheim was born Feb. 2, 1861, in Philadelphia, the son of a prosperous embroidery manufacturer. He was educated in the United States and Switzerland. His father early became interested in Colorado mining, and this end of the business prospered so that the sons liquidated the embroidery firm and concentrated on metals.

The family developed vast holdings in the United States, Mexico and South America.

Guggenheim was liberal with charities, and supported many Jewish and non-Jewish institutions. With his brothers, he built an annex to the Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York as a memorial to his parents.

He also is survived by his youngest daughter, Gertrude R. Guggenheim, and four grandchildren.

Two grandsons, children of the Earl and Countess Castle Stewart, were killed in the British army in World War II. Their third son, Viscount Patrick Stuart, is heir to the title and now is with the British army in Malaya.

Funeral services have not yet been announced.

Prize Is Shelved

Stockholm, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Swedish Academy decided today to shelve this year's Nobel Prize for literature because it was hopelessly deadlocked over four top candidates, including Winston Churchill and the Italian philosopher Benedetto Croce. The tug-of-war on the prize decision was reported to have been greater than any time during the half century in which the 18-member academy has been making the award.
